

DESERTED HIS WIFE AND HOME GOING WITH ANOTHER WOMAN

Well Known Street Railway Employee, A. M. Noling, Left Town Suddenly.

WIFE SAYS HE ROBBED HER

Taking All Their Earnings, Which Were in the Neighborhood of $300.

A SUIT HAS BEEN ENTERED

Against the Absent Man For $232 Due on a House—The Wronged Wife States Her Side of the Case—No Cause For Desertion.

An elopement, far more dastardly than the one in which Policeman Stafford figured a few weeks ago, occurred Monday, and despite all efforts of the police, the missing ones have not yet been located. The principals in the affair are A. M. Noling, for eight months a conductor on the East Liverpool and Rock Springs railway, and a young woman commonly known as "Red Bird" or "Black Diamond," but whose true name is supposed to be Mary Hanlon. They left the city together Monday evening on the 7:46 west bound train and further than this no one has even a suspicion of where they are or their probable destination.

The dastardliness of the affair lies in the fact that Noling deserted a wife who was at the time confined to her bed in a precarious condition, and before leaving went to a local bank and drew money amounting to nearly $300 which belonged to her and which she had saved from a year's earnings received at Mrs. Layton's restaurant in Carolina avenue, Chester, and besides this amount took $50 which she had entrusted him with, he promising to pay the interest upon some money she had borrowed.

"When I heard what he had done I just couldn't believe it," said Mrs. Noling in a broken voice when interviewed by a reporter at her home in Chester. "We have been married 13 years, and in all that time I never had the least reason to doubt his sincerity. He never quarreled in a single instance. He treated me lovingly, and at any time when I expressed a desire for anything he would always get it. We were always so happy, and why he left me I cannot explain. It seems awful that I should have lived with him so long and never suspected what kind of a man he was."

"Although it is very sad indeed, as I will have the suffering, I am really glad that I have found him out. Such a man is not fit for me, and I am happy, in a way, that he is gone. Yes, he stole some money from me. He took all I had. You see, we moved here from Hammondsville over a year ago, and after a while bought a lot on Sixth street and paid for it. When we went to build a house on it we found that we hadn't the money and borrowed enough to let us out. It amounted to several hundred dollars, and as far as I can learn now, he, instead of paying out any of the money for buildings, put it in his pocket, and if he didn't spend it took it with him. It was $250 in all, and you can imagine how long it will take me to replace so much money. It was all in the bank in my name, but made payable to either of us. One hundred and twenty-five dollars which I had deposited in a Wellsville bank in '97, I guess he did not get, and that is all I have to meet the bills of the carpenters who have now nearly finished my house." Mrs. Noling, while talking cried continually and showed every sign of nervous prostration. Her friends are afraid she will break completely down as a result of the blow, and she is under the care of a physician.

Considering the undisputed reputation and high standing of Mrs. Noling, who is a relative of Ex-Mayor Dunn, of Chester, and Policeman Dunn, of this city, the offense of her husband is unexplainable. The woman with whom he left is said to be notorious. She lived in the Smoky row district most of the time, but her home is said to be on Thompson hill. She is probably 25 years of age, and of rather comely appearance.

Policeman Dunn was the last to see the departing couple. He states they boarded the west bound train, and did it openly, not even appearing uneasy or excited. When the train pulled out both waved their hands as a farewell to home and friends.

Noling on Monday applied to the office of the street railway company on Washington street, and asked to be let off for a few days, stating that he wanted to go to Mansfield to see a brother who narrowly escaped death in a runaway accident last week. He was granted the leave, and left the office stating that he would be back in less than a week.

A peculiar coincidence connecting the affair with the Stafford elopement, is that the women chosen by both men as future life partners were great friends, and where one was found the other was always sure to be found. They were sometimes called the Simese Twins. Another connecting coincidence is that each man left a leading clothing firm in the hole for considerable money.

An effort may be made to apprehend Noling, as it is the wish of his wife that he be caught and be made to suffer the penalty for stealing her money. "No excuses or pleadings will ever unite us again," said Mrs. Noling. "All I want now is that he suffer for the terrible way in which he has treated me."

G. R. Weaver, the contracting carpenter, who erected the Noling house on Sixth street, this morning filed suit in Squire Johnston's court in Chester, against the absent man for $232.48, which amount he alleges is due him as a payment in full for the house. If Noling is not apprehended he says he will not hold Mrs. Noling liable for the money, but she says she will pay it as soon as possible.

It is reported that another employee of the street railway company is missing, but he is in Youngstown visiting his father, who is dangerously ill, so his friends say.

REASONS FOR CONTEST

SET FORTH BY OPPONENTS OF CALCUTTA ROAD BONDS.

Their Allegation Is That the Election Was Not According to Law.

Much comment has been caused by the exclusive announcement in the News Review that the recent bond election in St. Clair township was to be contested. Although those who were opposed to the improvement tried to keep their intention quiet the facts leaked out and additional information has since been made public.

Certain persons opposed to the improvement called upon Clerk J. I. Ansley, of St. Clair township, and there secured particulars concerning the recent bond issue election. One of the prime movers for the improvement was said to be Elmer Birch, of Calcutta, while Oscar Birch, of this city, who owns property along the road which is to be improved, is said to be against the issue. When Mr. Birch was seen yesterday he absolutely refused to talk about the question.

It has been stated by those who are opposed to the issue that the contest will be made on two sections of the law, which, it is claimed, were not followed.

Section 1. of House bill No. 258, as passed in 1900, states that "The trustees of any township in the state shall, when a petition of 100 or more of the taxpayers of such township is presented to them praying for the improvement of the public roads," submit the matter at a general election.

The opposition claims that Calcutta road was specified in the petition, and that the general meaning of the word "roads" was left out.

Another mistake made in the election, as claimed by the opposition, is found in section 5 of the same bill, which reads: "The trustees of such township shall appoint three freeholders as commissioners, who shall serve three years from and after the date of their appointment, and such commissioners shall designate and determine the established roads of such township which shall in their opinion be improved." It is claimed that so far nothing of this sort has been done, and this one of the main points upon which the contest is to be made.

The announcement has also been made that the township could not be bonded for more than $50,000, and that not more than three mills shall be levied for the payment of the debt. It is said there is no bonded debt on St. Clair township, hence there will be no hitch on this point of law.

NO AGREEMENT YET MADE

And Superintendent Healy Agrees That the Situation Looks Unpleasant—Men Will Meet the Management Today.

Conferences between the management of the East Liverpool street railway and the executive committee of division No. 52, street railway employees are to be held this afternoon when the management of the road is to be advised of the rejection of the proposition presented by the company Monday.

The result of this conference will not be made public until a meeting of the employees is held in the East End at 1:30 o'clock in the morning. Should another proposition be presented to the men by the management of the road, it will be discussed at the meeting tonight, and if it is rejected, a vote will be taken upon the future action of the men. It is reported that a strike is probable, as there is every reason to believe that the men will accept nothing but 22 cents an hour straight, or a scale similar to that in force on the Southside line.

In anticipation of a strike on this road tomorrow, Captain Samuel B. Goucher, who operates a ferry boat between Wellsville and Congo, is arranging to make stated trips between Wellsville and this city, the first starting at 5:30, East Liverpool time. The early train on the Panhandle branch, which leaves Congo at 6:30 a. m. for Chester, would carry many Wellsville people to this city if operations on the street railway should be suspended.

Manager Healy, when asked for a statement concerning the outlook for a settlement, said there were no new developments, and that the matter was commencing to look unpleasant.

RUMOR STILL BUSY REGARDING COMBINE

Trenton Hears a Story of a Vast Consolidation Effected in East Liverpool.

NO BASIS AT ALL FOR IT

And No Present Prospect of Any Union of Interests Unless Promoters Offer Different Terms—General News in Pottery Circles.

During the past few days there have been all sorts of rumors of a combine among the potteries of this section, but so far it has been hard to learn just where the combine and promoters are.

H. I. Irwin and James H. Trainer, of Chicago, who were here last week talking combine among a number of manufacturers, were expected in the city this afternoon, when their plans would be advanced by further conferences. These gentlemen have been in the east, talking to manufacturers east of Pittsburg, and it is said their mission was rather successful. In company with George Sebring, of Sebring, after doing a small amount of work here yesterday, they left for the east, and were expected to return this morning. They did not come, but are expected this evening.

A manufacturer said this morning that it was not likely that a combination of the potteries could be formed on the basis presented by these men. Other plans than those that have been so far presented will have to be pursued to insure success.

A telegram was received in this city late last night, stating that a report had been circulated in Trenton that Knowles, Taylor & Knowles, Laughlins and two additional potteries had formed a consolidation of interests. There was nothing in the report, however. A reporter called upon Joseph G. Lee, of the Knowles company last evening, but he stated that so far as he knew there was not the least truth in the report. "It seems that combines are growing on bushes," said Mr. Lee, "but they have not struck this town so far."

A meeting of those interested in the formation of a pool of interests in the Akron-Niles deal was held last Monday at Akron, and yesterday representatives of the companies were at Niles, where that plant was inspected, and other details looked into.

Another meeting of these parties will be held during the latter part of the week, when the plan may assume some definite form. When asked for information upon this deal this morning Eugene Bradshaw stated that he had not heard what had been done at the Niles plant yesterday, but expected to hear later.

How long will the convention last? That is the question that is agitating the mind of more than one delegate, and the general impression is that the session will more than likely last for more than a week. In the resolutions that have been prepared in book form by National Secretary T.

J. Duffy over 40 resolutions have been presented to the headquarters of the organization, and it is expected that at least 60 resolutions will be presented to the convention. One of the National officers has stated that he is confident that at least 100 resolutions in all will be considered at the convention, although just how many will be presented at this time cannot be told. There will be considerable more work to be attended to at this session than there was last year, and in this event it is reasonable to believe that the session will last more than six days. However, it has been stated that no work will be left undone and that everything will be finished as soon as possible.

There is a shortage of sagger clay in many potteries in this section, and unless the supply is augmented there is every reason to believe that some of the shops will be compelled to close down. At the Diamond there is practically no sagger clay. At Harker's practically the same condition prevails and also at Chetwynds'. This clay comes from New Jersey, and it is claimed the shortage is due to the inability of the railroad companies to furnish cars. In some instances potteries are drawing from one another for this kind of clay, but these condi-

Features of the Great Historical Entertainment to Be Presented May 8 and 9.

Mrs. H. E. Monron, the popular lecturer, will give another of her entertainments on May 8 and 9 for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. The entertainment opens with a procession, "The Rallying of the Clans," led by seven couples of Puritans and followed by bag pipes, Highlanders, Scotchmen and maids, royalists, etc. During the march many intricate figures will be executed and several choruses sung.

Mrs. Monron begins her lectures on John Knox and Mary Stuart, and the first scene introduced is one of 25 men, Puritans and students who are on their way to Leith to the queen's coronation. Several selections of music close the scene, after considerable dialogue, and the lecture continues.

The central scene of the evening is the court scene, where John Knox was summoned to appear before Queen Mary and her Scottish court. The queen will be seen upon her throne, surrounded by her courtly company in long trained satin dresses for the ladies, and the gentlemen attired in the style of Henry VIII., all the company wearing the Elizabethan ruffs.

In addition to the court men and women there will be details of men from the Knights of Pythias and Golden Eagle in their uniforms, who act as guards for the court, companies of Highlanders in their "kilties," who, with bag pipes, constitute a guard for the queen; princes from the different courts of Europe; pages, priests, etc. During the scene many Scottish ballads will be sung. The solo, "Annie Laurie," sung to a harp accompaniment, will be one of the many delightful features.

The lecture continues and the scene following the court scene will be the queen's execution. The queen is bidding farewell to her ladies-in-waiting, her favorite maids, English ambassadors and English soldiers and priests; a sheriff and his uniformed men, Scotch soldiers, etc., will all take part. The scene is very pathetic and entirely different from the court scene.

The lecture concludes and the evening closes with another procession, "The Triumph of the Puritans," in which all take part.

PURCHASE OF LAND

Made By the Street Railway for a Purpose Not Yet Explained.

The East Liverpool Street Railway company, through Manager L. W. Healy, has purchased from W. L. Smith, of this city, an acre of ground near Wellsville for $600. The land is located between the C. & P. railroad and the street railway at "Driven from Home" hill.

This land is in a hollow, and no word can be received from the company as to what will be done with the property. A fill is now being made at this place, and it may be that the company will fill the hollow.

Characterized an Evening Full of Enjoyment For a Large Gathering. Dancing Followed a Most Excellent Entertainment.

The joint banquet and entertainment given last night by the Retail Clerks' union, No. 133, and the Grocers' and Butchers' local, No. 292, was a grand success.

Not less than one hundred members of the two unions were present and had a most enjoyable time.

The hall over the postoffice presented a beautiful appearance, being decorated with flowers, plants and tapestries. The platform on which the entertainers stood was a bower of artistic beauty.

Young lady clerks were there in great numbers, and to their presence is credited the enjoyableness of the occasion. In fine attire, combined with enhancing beauty, they moved about fairy-like, through the spacious hall, attracting many admiring glances.

President Shriver, of local 292, was introduced by Chairman J. E. Anderson, president of local No. 133, at 8:30 and in the opening address extended a hearty welcome to all.

"Sparkling eyes," said Mr. Shriver, "are very important in making friendship, and that being the case friendship certainly exists here tonight, as in my life I never saw before more sparkling eyes."

Little Miss McFadden, in singing "Hello, Central! Give Me Heaven," brought tears to the eyes of many. The sentiment of the song is particularly sad and she sang it most pathetically.

A recitation by Miss Heakin, of Wellsville, was much appreciated, she being an elocutionist of rare ability.

The Misses Agner played a piano duet and received merited applause.

"The Idea of Organization" was the subject on which E. W. Hill addressed the audience. In a most impressive and convincing manner he clearly defined the idea from an abstract and then finite view. He condemned certain organizations, such as the beef trust, as instruments of refined cruelty in forcing the prices of the necessities of life so high that children, men and women were deprived of necessary nourishment.

"To the church," he said, "is given the working out of man's spiritual salvation. To the labor unions is given the working out of man's industrial salvation. As in the old spelling schools, the man of ability raised himself to the head of his class, so in the great lineup of the human family, we take rank according to our ability."

He spoke of the greed of those who, after amassing more than a sufficiency, continued to pile up more dollars, and said that through organization and the fraternity engendered thereby, men could curtail this greed and better the condition of their fellows.

"Don't wrong yourselves or others; don't squeeze or tyrannize or act arbitrarily, but do instill the spirit of justice into all your acts that all may be benefited by your organized efforts."

A vocal solo rendered by Clyde M. Hamilton was one of the features of the evening. Mr. Hamilton has a rich, deep voice and was lustily applauded by his appreciative listeners.

Another recitation by Miss Heakin was received with pleasure.

Miss Margaret Baxter sang beautifully a soprano solo entitled "Sometime." Miss Baxter sings with the grace and ease which always brings forth merited praise from music loving people.

T. J. Duffy, secretary of the N. B. of O. P., being in the audience, was called upon to make an address and in a pleasing manner gave utterance to a few extemporaneous remarks on the labor question as pertaining to organizations. To the ladies present he paid a high tribute, acknowledging that it

President Shriver, of local 292, was introduced by Chairman J. E. Anderson, president of local No. 133, at 8:30 and in the opening address extended a hearty welcome to all.

"Sparkling eyes," said Mr. Shriver, "are very important in making friendship, and that being the case friendship certainly exists here tonight, as in my life I never saw before more sparkling eyes."

Little Miss McFadden, in singing "Hello, Central! Give Me Heaven," brought tears to the eyes of many. The sentiment of the song is particularly sad and she sang it most pathetically.

A recitation by Miss Heakin, of Wellsville, was much appreciated, she being an elocutionist of rare ability.

The Misses Agner played a piano duet and received merited applause.

"The Idea of Organization" was the subject on which E. W. Hill addressed the audience. In a most impressive and convincing manner he clearly defined the idea from an abstract and then finite view. He condemned certain organizations, such as the beef trust, as instruments of refined cruelty in forcing the prices of the necessities of life so high that children, men and women were deprived of necessary nourishment.

"To the church," he said, "is given the working out of man's spiritual salvation. To the labor unions is given the working out of man's industrial salvation. As in the old spelling schools, the man of ability raised himself to the head of his class, so in the great lineup of the human family, we take rank according to our ability."

He spoke of the greed of those who, after amassing more than a sufficiency, continued to pile up more dollars, and said that through organization and the fraternity engendered thereby, men could curtail this greed and better the condition of their fellows.

"Don't wrong yourselves or others; don't squeeze or tyrannize or act arbitrarily, but do instill the spirit of justice into all your acts that all may be benefited by your organized efforts."

A vocal solo rendered by Clyde M. Hamilton was one of the features of the evening. Mr. Hamilton has a rich, deep voice and was justly applauded by his appreciative listeners.

Another recitation by Miss Heakin was received with pleasure. Miss Margaret Baxter sang beautifully a soprano solo entitled "Sometime." Miss Baxter sings with the grace and ease which always brings forth merited praise from music loving people.

T. J. Duffy, secretary of the N. B. of O. P., being in the audience, was called upon to make an address and in a pleasing manner gave utterance to a few extemporaneous remarks on the labor question as pertaining to organizations. To the ladies present he paid a high tribute, acknowledging that it

EAST END NOT YET DECIDED

Illness of Rev. H. M. Aiken's Wife May Keep Him From East End Pastorate.

Word has been received from Rev. H. M. Aiken, of DuBois, Pa., who received a call to become pastor of the Second U. P. church, that he has not yet decided whether he will accept. Mr. Aiken stated that his wife was very ill, and that she would more than likely be compelled to enter a hospital. For this and no other reason, the call of the East End congregation may not be accepted.

Sufficient time will be extended to Mr. Aiken, and if, at the last moment, it is found that he will be unable to take up the pastoral work here, another congregational meeting will be held.

ENLARGING THE CHURCH

Question Considered By Erie Street M. E. Church Trustees.

A meeting of the trustees of the Erie street M. E. church was held in the church last evening for the purpose of considering the plan for enlarging the church.

It was decided that nothing should be done just at present, although the needs of the church were taken into consideration. It is likely this matter will be again taken up, and at no distant date.

Question of New Hall.

The meeting of the Senior Mechanics, of the East End, which will be held tomorrow evening, will be an important one. At this session the matter of vacating their present hall and meeting in the new Larkins & Ferguson hall will be considered. Nearly all the lodges that have met in this hall in past years are now meeting in the Larkins & Ferguson building, as the latter hall is almost twice as large as the hall on Mulberry street.

P. H. C. Social a Success

It is estimated that no less than 500 persons attended the social given last evening in the Larkins & Ferguson hall by the East End branch of the Protected Home circle. The affair was quite an enjoyable one, and it is said the lodge cleared almost $100.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

N. J. Orr is ill at his home on Pennsylvania avenue.

The leak in the gas main on Ohio avenue has at last been repaired. The gas has been leaking from this main for several months, but could not be repaired on account of the high water.

It was rumored in the East End this morning that a well known ghost killer at Laughlin No. 2 and a well known young lady residing in Helena are to be married before the end of the week.

PROBATE MATTERS

Two Wills Filed for Probate—Administrator for Mrs. Eliza Blythe's Estate.

Lisbon, April 30. — (Special) — The will of Sarah G. F. Swartz, late of East Liverpool, was admitted to probate yesterday. Mary E. Mitchell is executrix.

The will of John Peter Hommel, late of Wellsville, has been probated. Heber H. Blythe has been appointed administrator of the estate of Eliza F. Blythe, late of East Liverpool. Bond $4,600. The appraisers are R. G. Thompson, H.W. Harker and W. C. Dunlap.

PENSION OF $663

Pension of $663 Granted to Ralph A. Woods, a Spanish-American War Veteran.

Ralph A. Woods, formerly a member of Company E, of this city, in the Spanish-American war, has been granted a pension of $17 a month, for a term of 39 months. The government has set up the claim that the disability of Mr. Wood has ceased, hence the limitations of the pension.

Distress After Eating

Nausea between meals, belching, vomiting, flatulence, fits of nervous headache, pain in the stomach, are all symptoms of dyspepsia, and the longer it is neglected the harder it is to cure it.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Radically and permanently cure it—strengthen and tone the stomach and other digestive organs for the natural performance of their functions.

Accept no substitute for Hood's.

"I had dyspepsia twenty-five years and took different medicines but got no help until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Have taken four bottles of this medicine and can now eat almost anything, sleep well, have no cramps in my stomach, no burning and no distress." Mrs. WILLIAM G. BARRETT, 14 Olney St., Providence, R. I. Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

BILLS HANGING FIRE

A Half Dozen Important Measures Awaiting Action in the Legislature.

ADJOURNMENT NOT FIXED

Senator Royer's Bill to Permit the Consolidation of Non-Competing Railroads Becomes a Law—Redistricting Matter Again Up.

Columbus, O., April 30.—[Special.]—Matters of interest still hang between the house and senate awaiting settlement, causing delay in adjournment and making people unhappy generally. Not a single one of the appropriation bills is yet a law, and it is doubtful if they will be this week; the redistricting matter, which was once determined, has dropped out again; the primary election matter hangs fire; the canal question is not altogether determined, and so after 17 weeks of work the legislature has a half dozen important matters which await a final result. From week to week the hope has been that the next one would be the last, and finally the house, in sheer desperation, adopted a resolution to stop on May 5—next Monday. It was supposed the senate would have the good grace to concur, but Chairman Moore of the finance committee announces that the 5th is out of the question, and that adjournment can not come before the 12th, or perhaps the 19th. Thus does Mr. Moore dictate the policy of the general assembly while other men sit supinely by and groan. But Mr. Moore's desire to hold on so long past the usual time is not altogether that he may peer closely into the provisions of the appropriation bills. He has other fish to fry, and other bills he desires to put through, some of which are now resting quietly in the hands of house committees, from which he wishes to get them out. Because of this, the disposition has been to delay the passage of the appropriation bills until the house, in its eagerness to get away, would take them up and put them through. But the sentiment against delay is strong. Men are tired and weary. They realize that longer delay is dangerous, and awakens suspicion in the minds of the people. A strong pressure has been brought to bear on the senate, and in view of that it has practically been decided to adopt a resolution to close up on the 12th and go home. When the final day comes the members will break for the depots and scurry away like frightened sheep, so strong is the disposition to stop.

After a long fight the bill of Senator Royer's to permit the consolidation of steam railroads not competing nor parallel has been passed and made into a law. The control against it has been strong. The real purpose of the measure has been to permit the Pennsylvania company to consolidate with the Vandalia, which it practically owns and controls, so that they may be operated from one office and under one management. The fear was that the bill would permit the consolidation of any two steam roads, thus destroying competition and raising freight rates. But it was so amended and changed that any loophole permitting such a consolidation is believed to have been effectually closed.

The oleomargarine matter is ended, and the Berghegger bill withdrawn and thrown on the ash-heap. The bill was to regulate the sale of oleomargarine in the state, and provided for a graded license tax and the display of signs wherever the product was sold. Mr. Berghegger's reason for withdrawing the measure was that the national law is severe enough, and is fully able to inflict proper punishment upon those who offend.

After seemingly having been settled several times the redistricting matter again bobs up and promises to be one of the questions over which the legislature will fight during the remainder of the session, and then leave unsettled. It was argued seemingly all around that the only change that ought to be made was in the Twelfth district, taking Fairfield county away from Franklin and making Franklin a district by itself. But now the people from the Third (Dayton) district come up and say that no reason exists why the Twelfth district should be changed and theirs left untouched. Moreover, they insist that such a plan will not be agreed to even though the legislature is forced to adjourn without passing a bill, leaving the districts as they are. The claim of the Third district people is that such an arrangement can be made as will make the district strongly Republican, without in any way affecting the political complexion of any other district, and therefore they argue: "Why can't it be done?" This would be good logic were the matter to stop there. But immediately a new difficulty presents itself. The Fourteenth district and the Ninth district and other districts all present the same claims, and wonder why, if the Third is to be changed, theirs can not be treated likewise. Thus confusion and contention arise immediately and the matter becomes as chaotic as at the start. The probability is now that no changes at all will be made, but the legislature adjourn without the passage of any bill. In that event the matter goes over for another ten years, when a future legislature can fight it out.

The most determined lobby of the session is here in opposition to the Painter new canal bill, which, it is believed, is defeated, and yet which it is feared may come up in the hurry of the session and slip through. The bill is that which permits the leasing of the canal banks of all canals, and the towpaths of all abandoned canals, for railroad purposes for a period of 99 years, on the ground that it would be a benefit to the state. It would make the canals self-supporting and relieve the state of a heavy annual expense. But it has been discovered by those men who closely watch all legislation that such a measure would give to the company now operating an electric line along the banks of the Miami and Erie canal in Cincinnati such a lease on the banks as would prevent the use of this territory by other companies. When this became apparent the opposition was quick and keen and exercising the divine right of Americans, that of objection, the lobby hurried to Columbus and has been here since. Mr. Painter is taking the matter philosophically, and declares that if the legislature fails to take advantage of an opportunity to cut down the burden of expense to the people he cannot prevent it, although he feels that the interests of a few railroads ought not to stand before the interests of the entire people.

Chairman Comings, of the house municipal committee having seen the postponement of his first municipal code bill until the session of the next legislature, has taken the choice which is given every drowning man to grasp at a straw and has introduced another in the vain hope that it may pass this session. The new bill is drafted on lines directly opposite those adopted for the former code. The sectional numbering of the existing statutes is retained, thus obviating the necessity of re-enacting all unchanged sections. Only those sections of the present statutes relating to the formation and organization of municipal governments are repealed and re-enacted. All special laws are left without repeal, thus leaving the work of their repeal to implication by the supreme court. All legislative and executive powers of a general nature heretofore granted to any legislative or executive board, commission, or body are by the new bill vested in the legislative and executive divisions alone. The bill retains the federal plan of government for municipalities with the four departments—law, public works, public safety and accounts—to be filled with directors appointed by the mayor. The council is to be composed of one member from each ward. All reference to school matters is eliminated and the laws relating to education are left as they now exist. The bill is much less in length than the former one, being cut from 780 to 100 pages.

Much interest is being taken in the bill by Senator Longworth, providing for boards of review to take the place of boards of equalization in municipalities. The bill gives to the auditor of any county authority to request of the auditor of state the abolition of boards of equalization in cities and the substitution of a board of review of an equal number of members appointed by the state board of review, consisting of the governor, auditor of state and secretary of state. This board shall exercise all of the functions of the present board of equalization, but the great change is that it takes from the mayors the right of appointment and it is upon the strength of this that many of these officers as well as many members of the present boards of equalization are objecting to it and working for its defeat.

The two cent fare bill, for which the traveling public has been contending for years, and against which the railroads have fought for an equal length of time, will not pass this session, although it has been vigorously fought for both by its introducer, Representative Dunham of Cleveland and others interested. The bill was introduced early in the session and sent to the committee on railroads and telegraphs and there it has rested in security of coming out since. An effort was made to have it taken from the committee's hands and made a question of issue on the floor, but the motion was defeated and the fate of the measure thus assured.

A bill of much importance which

Mr. Arthur Chapman, writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure suitable for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two months old. It had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dummy teat the baby was sucking it would no doubt cure the child. Wintering in Colorado And Utah. The climate of Colorado and Utah has long been world famous, but it is only within recent years that attention has been given to the delightful winter climate of these states. Today physicians all over the United States send their patients to Colorado and Utah to escape the rigors of eastern winters and to benefit by her invigorating atmosphere and health-giving sunshine.

It is not necessary to add an elaborate argument—the conclusion is self-evident and inevitable. The winter climate of Colorado and Utah on the whole presents advantages for the invalid and the pleasure-seeker that cannot fail to command attention.

An erroneous impression prevails that because the Rocky mountains have a high elevation the mercury in the thermometer drops down below zero in the winter season and stops there, and that the snow mounts up with the altitude. The fact is that the average precipitation of moisture in the lowlands of the mountain region during the entire year is only 14.15 inches. With such average precipitation there is practically no danger of snow blockades on the railroads, save at a few points exposed to drifts and these points have been amply protected. This is especially true of the lines of the Denver & Rio Grande and the Rio Grande Western between Denver and Ogden at all seasons of the year. Facts speak for themselves, and the fact is that travel over "The Scenic Line of the World" has gone on with less interruption from snow blockades during the last ten winters than it has upon the majority of railroads in other localities which are popularly supposed to be more free from such delays than the mountain systems. BILLS HANGING FIRE

A Half Dozen Important Measures Awaiting Action in the Legislature.

Senator Royer's Bill to Permit the Consolidation of Non-Competing Railroads Becomes a Law—Redistricting Matter Again Up.

Columbus, O., April 30.—[Special.]—Matters of interest still hang between the house and senate awaiting settlement, causing delay in adjournment and making people unhappy generally. Not a single one of the appropriation bills is yet a law, and it is doubtful if they will be this week; the redistricting matter, which was once determined, has dropped out again; the primary election matter hangs fire; the canal question is not altogether determined, and so after 17 weeks of work the legislature has a half dozen important matters which await a final result. From week to week the hope has been that the next one would be the last, and finally the house, in sheer desperation, adopted a resolution to stop on May 5—next Monday. It was supposed the senate would have the good grace to concur, but Chairman Moore of the finance committee announces that the 5th is out of the question, and that adjournment can not come before the 12th, or perhaps the 19th. Thus does Mr. Moore dictate the policy of the general assembly while other men sit supinely by and groan. But Mr. Moore's desire to hold on so long past the usual time is not altogether that he may peer closely into the provisions of the appropriation bills. He has other fish to fry, and other bills he desires to put through, some of which are now resting quietly in the hands of house committees, from which he wishes to get them out. Because of this, the disposition has been to delay the passage of the appropriation bills until the house, in its eagerness to get away, would take them up and put them through. But the sentiment against delay is strong. Men are tired and weary. They realize that longer delay is dangerous, and awakens suspicion in the minds of the people. A strong pressure has been brought to bear on the senate, and in view of that it has practically been decided to adopt a resolution to close up on the 12th and go home. When the final day comes the members will break for the depots and scurry away like frightened sheep, so strong is the disposition to stop.

After a long fight the bill of Senator Royer's to permit the consolidation of steam railroads not competing nor parallel has been passed and made into a law. The control against it has been strong. The real purpose of the measure has been to permit the Pennsylvania company to consolidate with the Vandalia, which it practically owns and controls, so that they may be operated from one office and under one management. The fear was that the bill would permit the consolidation of any two steam roads, thus destroying competition and raising freight rates. But it was so amended and changed that any loophole permitting such a consolidation is believed to have been effectually closed.

The oleomargarine matter is ended, and the Berghegger bill withdrawn and thrown on the ash-heap. The bill was to regulate the sale of oleomargarine in the state, and provided for a graded license tax and the display of signs wherever the product was sold. Mr. Berghegger's reason for withdrawing the measure was that the national law is severe enough, and is fully able to inflict proper punishment upon those who offend.

After seemingly having been settled several times the redistricting matter again bobs up and promises to be one of the questions over which the legislature will fight during the remainder of the session, and then leave unsettled. It was argued seemingly all around that the only change that ought to be made was in the Twelfth district, taking Fairfield county away from Franklin and making Franklin a district by itself.

now the people from the Third (Dayton) district come up and say that no reason exists why the Twelfth district should be changed and theirs left untouched. Moreover, they insist that such a plan will not be agreed to even though the legislature is forced to adjourn without passing a bill, leaving the districts as they are. The claim of the Third district people is that such an arrangement can be made as will make the district strongly Republican, without in any way affecting the political complexion of any other district, and therefore they argue: "Why can't it be done?" This would be good logic were the matter to stop there. But immediately a new difficulty presents itself. The Fourteenth district and the Ninth district and other districts all present the same claims, and wonder why, if the Third is to be changed, theirs can not be treated likewise. Thus confusion and contention arise immediately and the matter becomes as chaotic as at the start. The probability is now that no changes at all will be made, but the legislature adjourn without the passage of any bill. In that event the matter goes over for another ten years, when a future legislature can fight it out.

The most determined lobby of the session is here in opposition to the Painter new canal bill, which, it is believed, is defeated, and yet which it is feared may come up in the hurry of the session and slip through. The bill is that which permits the leasing of the canal banks of all canals, and the towpaths of all abandoned canals, for railroad purposes for a period of 99 years, on the ground that it would benefit the canal self-supporting and relieve the state of a heavy annual expense. But it has been discovered by those men who closely watch all legislation that such a measure would give to the company now operating an electric line along the banks of the Miami and Erie canal in Cincinnati such a lease on the banks as would prevent the use of this territory by other companies. When this became apparent the opposition was quick and keen and exercising the divine right of Americans, that of objection, the lobby hurried to Columbus and has been here since. Mr. Painter is taking the matter philosophically, and declares that if the legislature fails to take advantage of an opportunity to cut down the burden of expense to the people he cannot prevent it, although he feels that the interests of a few railroads ought not to stand before the interests of the entire people.

Chairman Comings, of the house municipal committee having seen the postponement of his first municipal code bill until the session of the next legislature, has taken the choice which is given every drowning man to grasp at a straw and has introduced another in the vain hope that it may pass this session. The new bill is drafted on lines directly opposite those adopted for the former code. The sectional numbering of the existing statutes is retained, thus obviating the necessity of re-enacting all unchanged sections. Only those sections of the present statutes relating to the formation and organization of municipal governments are repealed and re-enacted. All special laws are left without repeal, thus leaving the work of their repeal to implication by the supreme court. All legislative and executive powers of a general nature heretofore granted to any legislative or executive board, commission, or body are by the new bill vested in the legislative and executive divisions alone. The bill retains the federal plan of government for municipalities with the four departments—law, public works, public safety and accounts—to be filled with directors appointed by the mayor. The council is to be composed of one member from each ward. All reference to school matters is eliminated and the laws relating to education are left as they now exist. The bill is much less in length than the former one, being cut from 780 to 100 pages.

Much interest is being taken in the bill by Senator Longworth, providing for boards of review to take the place of boards of equalization in municipalities. The bill gives to the auditor of any county authority to request of the auditor of state the abolition of boards of equalization in cities and the substitution of a board of review of an equal number of members appointed by the state board of review, consisting of the governor, auditor of state and secretary of state. This board shall exercise all of the functions of the present board of equalization, but the great change is that it takes from the mayors the right of appointment and it is upon the strength of this that many of these officers as well as many members of the present boards of equalization are objecting to it and working for its defeat.

The two cent fare bill, for which the traveling public has been contending for years, and against which the railroads have fought for an equal length of time, will not pass this session, although it has been vigorously fought for both by its introducer, Representative Dunham of Cleveland and others interested. The bill was introduced early in the session and sent to the committee on railroads and telegraphs and there it has rested in security of coming out since. An effort was made to have it taken from the committee's hands and made a question of issue on the floor, but the motion was defeated and the fate of the measure thus assured.

has been recommended by the railroad committee of the house for passage is that giving to interurban railroads the right of eminent domain, such as is enjoyed by steam roads, except with the limitation that it shall not be enjoyed within municipalities nor by lines within 200 feet of one another or competing lines.

The omnibus bond bill by Senator Longworth, which will authorize under a general law the issuing of bonds by municipalities, townships, counties, etc., is to be amended from its original form so as to permit village councils and township trustees to act jointly in the matter of a bond issue and to permit the issue of bonds for natural gas and for municipal heating plants.

By order of Congressional Committee,

J. P. FAWCETT,

C. B. WICK, Committee.

ED. A. KING,

A bill is before congress making the use of the metric system compulsory in government departments. Noted men of science as well as prominent manufacturers have advocated the change. The metric system is already legal, and they think it should be made compulsory. The problem of introducing the system generally is certainly not easy, but that the change ought to be made there is no question. In the public schools alone it would result in the saving of an incalculable amount of time, labor and patience. The tables of weights and measures, over which pupils in arithmetic spend
months, if not years, could be mastered in less than a third of the time
now required, and a thorough knowledge of the subject gained. Valuable time now expended on the intricate problems of the school books could be saved for better uses. This fact alone is one of the strongest recommendations for the proposed change. Everybody knows how easy it is to reckon money in dollars, dimes and cents, and
how difficult to reckon in pounds, shillings and pence. Apply the same system to all sorts of weights and measures and the most common and most useful sort of mathematics would become interesting and attractive, instead of, as now, a terror to the average schoolboy.

The naval appropriation bill carries $77,659,000, a slight decrease from last year. It provides for six new warships, to cost approximately $29,000,- 000. It also provides for 500 additional naval cadets, 125 to be appointed each year for four years. The report shows that since 1882 there have been added to the navy 79 vessels, costing $124,899,091, and that 59 vessels are now under construction, to build which will cost $53,880,013. The navy will then have 138 vessels, costing $235,- 082,209. Of these vessels the report says: "Our naval prowess lies almost entirely in our 18 battleships, eight armored cruisers and 21 protected cruisers. The rest of our ships would cut but little figure in actual war. Ships of the battle line practically alone determine the naval strength of
a nation."

Upwards of 50,000 children are now being educated in Porto Rico's public schools. Three years ago the island had no public schools, and less than 1,000 children were enjoying educational advantages. Porto Ricans have person to bless the day that Uncle Sam
planted his flag among them.

The senate is showing a disposition

Great preparations are being made for the annual picnic to be held at Rock Springs park Monday, June 2.
Already the management of the park
and members of the Brotherhood who have the picnic in charge are sending advertising matter broadcast, and
from present indications one of the largest crowds that ever attended a Brotherhood outing will be there this summer. The rate from Wheeling on this occasion will be 90 cents for a round trip, while a rate of 60 cents
will prevail from Steubenville.

Work was started today in rebuild-

part, inside of two weeks."

Andrew Wilson, a salesman for the National, who came in from a southwestern trip a few days ago, left yesterday for a trip of six weeks through
the northwest.

George Smith, secretary of Kiln-men's Local No. 9, who has been elected a delegate to the Trenton convention, is not sure that he can leave tomorrow to take part in the work of the auditing committee which has been assigned him. Mrs. Smith is

It has been stated that the clay shops at Laughlin No. 3 will start next Monday, although it was expected that the company would be able to start this shop this week. The names of the department managers of this new plant will probably be announced in a
few days.

A plot of ground at the corner of Lalor and Hancock streets has been purchased by the Trenton Potteries Company for the purpose of making an extension to its plant. The site gives the firm a frontage on Hancock

Simon Boswell, of Toronto, was in

Miss Ora Martin, a teacher in the

RENOUNCES A CROWN.

Prince Eugene of Sweden's Sacrifice

Love levels all ranks, and royalty is no more proof against Cupid's darts
than are persons of ordinary clay.
That is why Prince Eugene of Sweden

young women in the Parisian artistic
set. Prince Eugene is the fourth son of the king of Sweden. He has lived for years in the Latin quarter and is a painter of distinction. It was in one of the studios of Paris that the prince
first met the young American girl, fascinating, black haired and the acknowledge beauty of the American colony, and fell in love with her.

A Painter's Troubles.

The desire of the Bank of England
officials to discover forgers has sometimes led to curious mistakes. On one occasion the painter George Morland,
in his eagerness to avoid his duns, retired to an obscure hiding place in Hackney, where his anxious looks and secluded manner of life induced some of his neighbors to believe him a forger
of notes then in existence.

The directors, on being informed, dispatched some dexterous detectives to the residence, but Morland's suspicious were aroused by their movements in front of the house and, thinking them bailiffs, escaped from the back to London.

Mrs. Morland informed the visitors
of her husband's name and showed them some unfinished pictures. The facts were reported to the directors,
who presented Morland with two twenty-pound notes by way of compensation
for the alarm.

Unique Tablecloth.

When a southeast wind is blowing,
the visitor to Cape Town is treated to
a peculiar and interesting natural phenomenon, for under such conditions
Table mountain, in the language of
the natives, "puts on a tablecloth."

In other words, the thin line of fleece cloud forming above it descends
until it rests flat upon the mountain top, with its edges drooping gracefully
over its sides.

It is really not unlike the article of

Forethought.

"Why, I didn't know you had weak eyes, Mortimer!" exclaimed his very best girl.

"I haven't," returned Mortimer earnestly. "I have come to ask your father for your hand tonight, and it is a state prison offense to strike a person
wearing glasses in the eye."—Brooklyn

use of the metric system compulsory
in government departments. Noted
men of science as well as prominent manufacturers have advocated the
legal, and they think it should be made
compulsory. The problem of introducing the system generally is certainly not easy, but that the change ought to be made there is no question. In the public schools alone it would result in
the saving of an incalculable amount
of time, labor and patience. The tables of weights and measures, over which pupils in arithmetic spend
months, if not years, could be master-
ed in less than a third of the time
now required, and a thorough knowledge of the subject gained. Valuable
time now expended on the intricate problems of the school books could be saved for better uses. This fact alone is one of the strongest recommendations for the proposed change. Everybody knows how easy it is to reckon
money in dollars, dimes and cents, and
how difficult to reckon in pounds, shillings and pence. Apply the same system to all sorts of weights and measures and the most common and most useful sort of mathematics would become interesting and attractive, instead of, as now, a terror to the average schoolboy.

$77,659,000, a slight decrease from last year. It provides for six new warships, to cost approximately $25,000, 000. It also provides for 500 additional naval cadets, 125 to be appointed
each year for four years. The report shows that since 1882 there have been added to the navy 79 vessels, costing $124,899,091, and that 59 vessels are
now under construction, to build which
then have 138 vessels, costing $235,- 082,209. Of these vessels the report says: "Our naval prowess lies almost entirely in our 18 battleships, eight
armored cruisers and 21 protected
cruisers. The rest of our ships would cut but little figure in actual war.
Ships of the battle line practically
a nation."

Upwards of 50,000 children are now
being educated in Porto Rico's public schools. Three years ago the island
had no public schools, and less than 1,000 children were enjoying educational advantages. Porto Ricans have person to bless the day that Uncle Sam
planted his flag among them.

young women in the Parisian artistic
set. Prince Eugene is the fourth son of the king of Sweden. He has lived
for years in the Latin quarter and is a painter of distinction. It was in one of the studios of Paris that the prince first met the young American girl, fascinating, black haired and the ac-

A Painter's Troubles.
The desire of the Bank of England
officials to discover forgers has sometimes led to curious mistakes. On one occasion the painter George Morland,
in his eagerness to avoid his duns, retired to an obscure hiding place in Hackney, where his anxious looks and
secluded manner of life induced some
of his neighbors to believe him a forger
of notes then in existence.
The directors, on being informed, dispatched some dexterous detectives to
the residence, but Morland's suspicions were aroused by their movements in front of the house and, thinking them
bailiffs, escaped from the back to London.

Mrs. Morland informed the visitors
of her husband's name and showed them some unfinished pictures. The facts were reported to the directors,
who presented Morland with two twenty pound notes by way of compensation
for the alarm.

Unique Tablecloth.

When a southeast wind is blowing,
the visitor to Cape Town is treated to
a peculiar and interesting natural phenomenon, for under such conditions
Table mountain, in the language of
the natives, "puts on a tablecloth."

In other words, the thin line of
fleece cloud forming above it descends
until it rests flat upon the mountain
top, with its edges drooping gracefully
over its sides.

It is really not unlike the article of household use which gives it its name.

"Why, I didn't know you had weak

PROTESTS ARE HEARD

Regarding the Construction of a Retaining Wall on James Street.

Numerous protests have been heard among the prominent citizens of the city recently relative to a stone retaining wall constructed in front of a few houses located on James street, beyond little Yellow Creek. Many people who are not familiar with the circumstances claim that an ordinance was railroaded through council, whereby the city would have to stand the entire expense of the wall, which cost in the neighborhood of $500, and which only benefits a few property holders.

A number of residents who do not understand the matter have spoken to new members of council, asking them to look into the matter and see if this expense could not be avoided. Nothing will be done in the matter, however, and it is thought the matter will not again be brought up.

MINOR NEWS OF WELLSVILLE.

Thomas Smith, of Wheeling, was in the city yesterday on business.

F. S. Grace, of Steubenville, was a Wellsville business visitor last evening.

A. J. Henthorn, of Monroe county, is visiting his son Nathan on Nevada street.

S. M. Flanagan, of Butler, Pa., was in the city yesterday on a short business trip.

Mrs. J. Garey, of Allegheny, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Cohegan, in this city.

Mrs. Charles Carpenter, of Pittsburgh, is visiting her parents on Seventh street for a few days.

The Misses Boyce, of Main street, will start tomorrow for Chautauqua lake, where they will spend the summer.

Mrs. Nancy Jones, of Yellow Creek, will entertain a party of Wellsville friends at her home today, the occasion being her birthday.

William C. Connor and wife, of Broadway, left last evening for Allegheny, where they will attend the funeral of a relative today.

Mrs. William Madden, of Hammondsville, passed through the city last evening en route to Pittsburgh, where she will spend a few days.

Mrs. Elizabeth Caldwell, of Washington, Pa., who has been visiting friends here for the past few days, returned to her home last evening.

Mrs. James Junk and her two daughters, of Washington, Pa., who have been visiting at the home of Rev. C. L. V. McKee, in the West End for some time, returned home yesterday afternoon.

He Was Rather "Close"

An English clergyman of the eighteenth century, the Rev. Mr. Jones of Blewbury, with a nest egg of £200 and a stipend amounting to £50 per annum, left at death the sum of £10,000. He had been rector of his parish for forty years, and during all that time only one person had been known to sit at his festal table. No fire was ever lighted in his house, nor was a servant kept. In winter he would visit his parishioners to keep himself from perishing of cold rather than light a fire at the rectory.—Cassell's Journal.

TIRED OF HIS CROWN

WHY KING LEOPOLD OF BELGIUM MAY ABDICATE.

Cares of State Too Burdensome For the Merriest Monarch in Europe. His Keen Sense of Humor and Kind Heart—The Heir Presumptive.

King Leopold of Belgium, gayest of monarchs, whose many escapades have been a scandal in Europe for years, is at last in serious trouble. His present difficulties are due to his subjects, who so far forgot "the divinity that doth hedge about a king" as to chase his royal highness through the streets of Brussels, threatening bodily harm. On top of the mobbing comes the report that Leopold is to abdicate his throne in favor of his nephew, Prince Albert.

An alarming feature of the situation in Belgium is the suspicion that prevails as to the loyalty of the army to the king. The rank and file of the army are believed to be in sympathy with the present Socialistic-Republican movement. These things, it is alleged, have made King Leopold weary of his job.

King Leopold is an up to date monarch. He has always been a hard worker, and, though he is no longer young and has a white beard of patriarchal length, his alertness is that of a man in the prime of life.

He gets up at 5 o'clock in the morning, winter and summer, and by 7 o'clock he has read, digested and annotated all his vast correspondence. Sometimes he reads his letters in his study, but if the weather be fine he gets out into the beautiful park of his palace at Laeken and reads them as he walks up and down. Exercise, hard work, sobriety in eating and drinking—these are his sources of health and vitality.

Few Brussels shopkeepers of good position live more simply than the king of Belgium. At 8 o'clock he has a few grapes, a peach and a cup of chocolate. At noon he takes what is called on the continent his second breakfast. It consists of scrambled eggs, steak and a Hamburg fillet, a favorite and special dish of his, and some spinach.

Dinner is at the early and unfashionable hour of 6, and it consists of soup, a small entree, a bit of roast beef, game when in season, asparagus and a little fruit. He drinks just three glasses of wine, never more, and it is always a still wine. Champagne he does not touch.

King Leopold is an ardent devotee of the automobile. In just thirteen minutes exactly every morning when he is at Laeken he traverses the distance between there and his palace in Brussels. There is a story of his chauffeur recently threatened with arrest by a zealous police officer not because of the danger to foot passengers, the courtly officer hastened to explain, but because the speed threatened to cause an accident to the king himself.

At the age of sixty-eight King Leopold II. is one of the gayest young fellows in Europe. He married at the age of eighteen Archduchess Marie Henriette of Austria, and her troubles with her royal husband began on the honeymoon. His friendship with one of his wife's retinue was apparent to all, and Leopold took no pains to conceal his infatuation. Ever since then his ministers and family have been bothered constantly to keep the old man out of mischief. They do not succeed well. There is no telling when he is going to break out next.

When the lines have been drawn too tight on him in Brussels, Leopold throws off the cares of state and hies himself across the border to Paris. There he has his fling before listening to the dignified councilors of state who post after him.

As to the reports of abdication, it is difficult to get at their source. It is known in his own country that King Leopold is getting tired of politics, and the event is not at all improbable.

Prince Albert, King Leopold's nephew, is twenty-seven years old. A year and a half ago he married Duchess Elizabeth of Bavaria, who is one year his junior. Theirs was a real love match.

There are those who think Prince Albert is yet unprepared to rule, and that the king will wait until his pupil has acquired more knowledge in the art of being a constitutional monarch. However this may be, the king's humor at present points to an early abdication.

Monstrous Force of Tornadoes.

Much has been said about electricity as a factor for destructiveness in the various grating stormclouds known as cyclones, dreeches and tornadoes. In all of this voluminous mass of so called scientific opinions and deductions one fact seems to have been entirely overlooked—viz, the almost resistless force of wind when moving with high velocity. When the velocity is but fifty miles an hour, the pressure of air in motion is equal to twelve pounds to the square foot, and when this velocity rises to a hundred miles per hour its force rises to the equivalent of 49.2 pounds to the square foot, the augmentation of force being always proportional to the square of the velocity.

It needs no further elaboration or amplification of this statement to convey to the intelligent reader an idea of the monstrous mechanical force which such a rapid traveling mass of air must have, a power great enough to tear down any structure that has yet been built by man or to uproot whole forests of the largest trees now growing on the surface of the earth.

Captain Harry S. New is a son of John C. New, who served as treasurer of the United States in Grant's cabinet, as assistant secretary of the treasury under Arthur and as consul general at London during President Harrison's administration.

The younger New is well known as editor and publisher of the Indianapolis Journal. His military title was obtained by service at Jacksonville, Fla., during the war with Spain, where he served as assistant adjutant general of volunteers, with the rank of captain.

Names in Ireland.

A contributor to The Pilot finds that in every thousand of the population in Ireland 13.8 bear the name Murphy, 11.8 the name of Kelly and 9.2 the name of Sullivan. These three names lead all others by a long gap. The somewhat popular notion that the Mc's and the O's stand at the head of the list of Irish surnames is thus disposed of.

SOUTH SIDE

THE CHESTER ELECTION

Much Interest in the Bond Question. Much Opposition to the Proposed Issue.

Chester tomorrow votes on the proposition to issue $24,000 of bonds to pave First street and Carolina avenue. It is generally thought the proposition will be defeated. One of the leading business men in Chester puts forward the following argument against bonds:

"The present assessment of Chester is four mills. This provides about $2,000, or $500 per mill. The interest on $24,000 is $1,440 per year, or three mills. To provide a sinking fund of say $1,000 per year would require two mills. This would take 24 years to pay the debt off, and increase the tax from four mills or 40 cents to nine mills or 90 cents, and stop any further improvements for that time.

"If this bond issue is turned down and the matter is taken up so as to provide for the street railway company to help pay the county and the Panhandle railroad to help on the bridge, we would not need over $7,000, instead of $24,000. Think of this before you vote tomorrow."

SPIRITED CONTEST

Spirited Contest in Progress for the Nomination for County Clerk in Hancock.

A spirited contest is now going on in Hancock county between the can-cunty clerk.

The three Republican candidates in the field are W. H. Beebe and A. S. Cooper, New Cumberland, and T. M. Cochran, Clay district.

The Republican primaries will be held on June 7.

Town Well Lighted.

The fifteen new gas lamps, which were ordered of Risinger Bros., at East Liverpool, by the Chester council some time ago, have at last been installed. The town is now well lighted and the lights continue to burn night and day.

CHESTER NOTES.

A new platform is being placed just west of the Chester Pan Handle depot.

T. M. Cochran, of the Clay district was in Chester this morning on business.

Postmaster S. F. Rose is on the sick list, and is hardly able to attend to his official duties.

Mrs. William Spring, of Fairview, visited Chester and East Liverpool friends yesterday.

Paul Finley, of First street, son of Joseph Finley, who has been sick for the past few days, is somewhat improved.

Garrett Mercer's new house on Carolina avenue is now rapidly nearing completion. It will be ready for occupancy within a few days.

Douglas Jerrold in School.

Douglas Jerrold wrote "Black Eyed Susan" when he was twenty-one and contributed to Punch the immensely popular "Candle Lectures" not long afterward. But at nine years of age young Jerrold had been scarcely able to read, and it was not until he was apprenticed to a printer, after serving for some time as a midshipman at sea, that he showed either desire or capacity for intellectual improvement.

Two Mindedness.

High mindedness and right mindedness may profitably be supplemented by "two mindedness," which has been defined as the habit of taking into account what is urged on both sides and trying to combine the essential parts of the two opposing arguments into one higher truth. Magnanimity, honesty, breadth—a trio of qualities worth possessing and the last by no means the least.

An Interruption.

The prayer meeting was held at good Brother W.'s house on the hill. The meeting had progressed, and prayer and remarks and hymns had occupied the time. The hour of closing had almost arrived. The dominie in a low voice said: "Now there is just a moment left. 'Isn't there some one who would like to fill in that moment before we close?' There was dead silence when in the twinkling of an eye the door on the clock flew open, and out popped the head of a little bird, which said, "Cuckoo!"—Homiletic Review.

THOUSANDS of women suffer from systemic catarrh. This is sure to produce such symptoms as cold feet and hands, sick headache, palpitation of the heart and heavy feelings in the stomach.

Then begins a series of experiments with medicine. They take medicine for sick headache. They take medicine for nervous prostration, for palpitation of the heart, for dyspepsia. None of these medicines do any good because they do not reach the cause of the complaint.

Peruna at once mitigates all these symptoms by removing the cause.

Systemic catarrh is the trouble. Systemic catarrh pervades the whole system, deranges every organ, weakens every function. No permanent cure can be expected until the systemic catarrh is removed.

This is exactly what Peruna will do. Miss Alma Cox, Assistant Postmistress of Orum, S. C., writes:

"I have been a great sufferer from chronic disease and dyspepsia for five years. How I suffered no tongue can tell. I tried eight or ten of the best physicians without receiving much benefit, also tried lots of patent medicines. But still I suffered with sick headache, cold feet and hands, palpitation of the heart, and such a heavy feeling in my stomach and chest. At times I would be so nervous I could not bear anyone around me. I had been given up to die.

"One day a friend sent me one of Dr. Hartman's pamphlets, and I decided to write to him. He advised Peruna and Manalin, and after taking the medicine two weeks I felt greatly relieved. My head did not pain me any severely, and my stomach was relieved of its heavy

Criticizing a Portrait.

Walter Dean, Sr., once hired an artist to paint his portrait, with the stipulation that the picture would not be accepted and paid for unless it looked like himself. When the portrait was completed, it was sent to Mr. Dean, who did not recognize himself and absolutely refused to pay the painter. The painter sued, and Joe Strong, the artist, was called in to give an expert opinion.

"You see the portrait of Mr. Dean?" the lawyer asked.

"No," said Mr. Strong. "I do not."

"There it is," said the lawyer, pointing to the big canvas.

"I don't call that a portrait. I call that a map of Mr. Dean," said Mr. Strong.

What's in a Name?

"I became very much interested in a chance companion on a railway train," said a New York clergyman. "He was plainly of Italian birth or extraction, and so I remarked to him:

"Where were you born?"

"In Genoa," replied the young man.

"And what is your name?"

"Patrick Murphy."

"How in the world did you get that name? I asked instinctively.

"I took it," replied the young man.

"Why did you choose such a name?"

Prunes.

Dr. Hanson, writing on the subject of prunes, says: "A pound of prunes is equivalent as food to a gallon of milk and costs but a quarter as much. It is about equivalent to a pound of bread, but is far more healthful. Considered from an economic standpoint, no fresh meat, fish, milk or eggs can be provided for the same moderate cost, and none of them contains, even approximately, the same aggregate of nutritive elements."

King Leopold of Belgium, gayest of monarchs, whose many escapades have been a scandal in Europe for years, is at last in serious trouble. His present difficulties are due to his subjects, who so far forgot "the divinity that doth hedge about a king" as to chase his royal highness through the streets of Brussels, threatening bodily harm. On top of the mobbing comes the report that Leopold is to abdicate his throne in favor of his nephew, Prince Albert.

An alarming feature of the situation in Belgium is the suspicion that prevails as to the loyalty of the army to the king. The rank and file of the army are believed to be in sympathy with the present Socialistic-Republican movement. These things, it is alleged, have made King Leopold weary of his job.

King Leopold is an up to date monarch. He has always been a hard worker, and, though he is no longer young and has a white beard of patriarchal length, his alertness is that of a man in the prime of life.

He gets up at 5 o'clock in the morning, winter and summer, and by 7 o'clock he has read, digested and annotated all his vast correspondence. Sometimes he reads his letters in his study, but if the weather be fine he gets out into the beautiful park of his palace at Laeken and reads them as he walks up and down. Exercise, hard work, sobriety in eating and drinking—these are his sources of health and vitality.

Few Brussels shopkeepers of good position live more simply than the king of Belgium. At 8 o'clock he has a few grapes, a peach and a cup of chocolate. At noon he takes what is called on the continent his second breakfast. It consists of scrambled eggs, steak and a Hamburg fillet, a favorite and special dish of his, and some spinach.

Dinner is at the early and unfashionable hour of 6, and it consists of soup, a small entree, a bit of roast beef, game when in season, asparagus and a little fruit. He drinks just three glasses ministers and family have been bothered constantly to keep the old man out of mischief. They do not succeed well. There is no telling when he is going to break out next.

When the lines have been drawn too tight on him in Brussels, Leopold throws off the cares of state and hies himself across the border to Paris. There he has his ding before listening to the dignified councilors of state who post after him.

As to the reports of abdication, it is difficult to get at their source. It is known in his own country that King Leopold is getting tired of politics, and the event is not at all improbable.

Prince Albert, King Leopold's nephew, is twenty-seven years old. A year and a half ago he married Duchess Elizabeth of Bavaria, who is one year his junior. Theirs was a real love match.

There are those who think Prince Albert is yet unprepared to rule, and that the king will wait until his pupil has acquired more knowledge in the art of being a constitutional monarch. However this may be, the king's humor at present points to an early abdication.

Monstrous Force of Tornadoes.

Much has been said about electricity as a factor for destructiveness in the various grating stormclouds known as cyclones, drechoes and tornadoes. In all of this voluminous mass of so called scientific opinions and deductions one fact seems to have been entirely overlooked—viz, the almost irresistible force of wind when moving with high velocity. When the velocity is but fifty miles an hour, the pressure of air in motion is equal to twelve pounds to the square foot, and when this velocity rises to a hundred miles per hour its force rises to the equivalent of 49.2 pounds to the square foot, the augmentation of force being always proportional to the square of the velocity.

It needs no further elaboration or amplification of this statement to convey to the intelligent reader an idea of the monstrous mechanical force which such a rapid traveling mass of air must have, a power great enough to tear down any structure that has yet been built by man or to uproot whole forests of the largest trees now growing on the surface of the earth.

William M. Johnson of New Jersey, who voluntarily retired because of ill health and the demands of his large business interests in New Jersey.

Captain Harry S. New is a son of John C. New, who served as treasurer of the United States in Grant's cabinet, as assistant secretary of the treasury under Arthur and as consul general at London during President Harrison's administration.

The younger New is well known as editor and publisher of the Indianapolis Journal. His military title was obtained by service at Jacksonville, Fla., during the war with Spain, where he served as assistant adjutant general of volunteers, with the rank of captain.

Names in Ireland.

A contributor to The Pilot finds that in every thousand of the population in Ireland 13.8 bear the name Murphy, 11.8 the name of Kelly and 9.2 the name of Sullivan. These three names lead all others by a long gap. The somewhat popular notion that the Mc's and the O's stand at the head of the list of Irish surnames is thus disposed of.

SOUTH SIDE

THE CHESTER ELECTION

Much Interest in the Bond Question. Much Opposition to the Proposed Issue.

Chester tomorrow votes on the proposition to issue $24,000 of bonds to pave First street and Carolina avenue. It is generally thought the proposition will be defeated. One of the leading business men in Chester puts forward the following argument against bonds:

"The present assessment of Chester is four mills. This provides about $2,000, or $500 per mill. The interest on $24,000 is $1,440 per year, or three mills. To provide a sinking fund of say $1,000 per year would require two mills. This would take 24 years to pay the debt off, and increase the tax from four mills or 40 cents to nine mills or 90 cents, and stop any further improvements for that time.

"If this bond issue is turned down and the matter is taken up so as to provide for the street railway company to help pay the county and the Panhandle railroad to help on the bridge, we would not need over $7,000, instead of $24,000. Think of this before you vote tomorrow."

SPIRITED CONTEST

Spirited Contest in Progress for the Nomination for County Clerk in Hancock.

A spirited contest is now going on in Hancock county between the can-county clerk.

The three Republican candidates in the field are W. H. Beebout and A. S. Cooper, New Cumberland, and T. M. Cochran, Clay district.

The Republican primaries will be held on June 7.

Town Well Lighted.

The fifteen new gas lamps, which were ordered of Risinger Bros., at East Liverpool, by the Chester council some time ago, have at last all been installed. The town is now well lighted and the lights continue to burn night and day.

CHESTER NOTES.

A new platform is being placed just west of the Chester Pan Handle depot.

T. M. Cochran, of the Clay district was in Chester this morning on business.

Postmaster S. F. Rose is on the sick list, and is hardly able to attend to his official duties.

Mrs. William Spring, of Fairview, visited Chester and East Liverpool friends yesterday.

Paul Finley, of First street, son of Joseph Finley, who has been sick for the past few days, is somewhat improved.

Garrett Mercer's new house on Carolina avenue is now rapidly nearing completion. It will be ready for occupancy within a few days.

Douglas Jerrold in School.

Douglas Jerrold wrote "Black Eyed Susan" when he was twenty-one and contributed to Punch the immensely popular "Candle Lectures" not long afterward. But at nine years of age young Jerrold had been scarcely able to read, and it was not until he was apprenticed to a printer, after serving for some time as a midshipman at sea, that he showed either desire or capacity for intellectual improvement.

Two Mindedness.

High mindedness and right mindedness may profitably be supplemented by "two mindedness," which has been defined as the habit of taking into account what is urged on both sides and trying to combine the essential parts of the two opposing arguments into one higher truth. Magnanimity, honesty, breadth—a trio of qualities worth possessing and the last by no means the least.

An Interruption.

The prayer meeting was held at good Brother W.'s house on the hill. The meeting had progressed, and prayer and remarks and hymns had occupied the time. The hour of closing had almost arrived. The dominie in a low voice said: "Now there is just a moment left. 'Isn't there some one who would like to fill in that moment before we close?" There was dead silence when in the twinkling of an eye the door on the clock flew open, and out popped the head of a little bird, which said, "Cuckoo!"—Homiletic Review.

NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH.

ALMA L. COX.

THOUSANDS of women suffer from systemic catarrh. This is sure to produce such symptoms as cold feet and hands, sick headache, palpitation of the heart and heavy feelings in the stomach.

Then begins a series of experiments with medicine. They take medicine for sick headache. They take medicine for nervous prostration, for palpitation of the heart, for dyspepsia. None of these medicines do any good because they do not reach the cause of the complaint.

Peruna at once mitigates all these symptoms by removing the cause. Systemic catarrh is the trouble. Systemic catarrh pervades the whole system, deranges every organ, weakens every function. No permanent cure can be expected until the systemic catarrh is removed.

This is exactly what Peruna will do. Miss Alma Cox, Assistant Postmistress of Orum, S. C., writes:

"I have been a great sufferer from chronic disease and dyspepsia for five years. How I suffered no tongue can tell. I tried eight or ten of the best physicians without receiving much benefit, also tried lots of patent medicines. But still I suffered with sick headache, cold feet and hands, palpitation of the heart, and such a heavy feeling in my stomach and chest. At times I would be so nervous I could not bear anyone around me. I had been given up to die.

"One day a friend sent me one of Dr. Hartman's pamphlets, and I decided to write to him. He advised Peruna and Manalin, and after taking the medicine two weeks I felt greatly relieved. My head did not pain me any severely, and my stomach was relieved of its heavy Critiquing a Portrait.

Walter Dean, Sr., once hired an artist to paint his portrait, with the stipulation that the picture would not be accepted and paid for unless it looked like himself. When the portrait was completed, it was sent to Mr. Dean, but he did not recognize himself and absolutely refused to pay the painter. The painter sued, and Joe Strong, the artist, was called in to give an expert opinion.

"You see the portrait of Mr. Dean?" the lawyer asked.

"No," said Mr. Strong. "I do not."

"There it is," said the lawyer, pointing to the big canvas.

"I don't call that a portrait. I call that a map of Mr. Dean," said Mr. Strong.

What's in a Name?

"I became very much interested in a chance companion on a railway train," said a New York clergyman. "He was plainly of Italian birth or extraction, and so I remarked to him:

"Where were you born?"

"In Genoa," replied the young man.

"And what is your name?"

"Patrick Murphy."

"How in the world did you get that name?" I asked instinctively.

"I took it," replied the young man.

"Why did you choose such a name?"

DISGRACE TO ARMY.

So Declares Senator Teller of General Smith's Alleged Order.

IF TRUE, HE OUGHT TO BE OUSTED

Lodge Said Order to Him Was Revolt- ing, but He Declared President Or- dered Smith Court Martialed on Receiving Information.

Washington, April 30.—A spirited discussion of the Philippine situation occurred in the senate yesterday. It revolved around the order alleged to have been issued by General Jacob A. Smith, to make the island of Samar a howling wilderness and to kill all male inhabitants over the age of 10 years. The debate took a wide range, however, and many other points were discussed.

When the Philippine bill was laid before the senate no one was prepared to deliver a speech on it. Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, in charge of the measure, said he felt compelled to press it for consideration.

His remarks drew the fire of Mr. Teller, of Colorado, who criticized the Republicans for not participating in the discussion. This precipitated the debate and for more than two hours it continued. Mr. Teller declared that General Smith, if he had issued such an order as had been attributed to him, ought to be dismissed from the service, as it was a disgrace to the American army and to the American people.

Mr. Lodge said that while he knew little of the circumstances surrounding the alleged order, he did not approve of cruel methods in warfare, and every right-minded person must regret General Smith's order. To him it was revolting. He defended the administration, however, saying as soon as knowledge of the order had come to Washington the president had directed that General Smith be court martialed.

TRIAL OF GEN. SMITH.

Witness Testified a Boy Murdered Captain Connell.

Manila, April 30.—When the trial by court martial of General Jacob H. Smith was resumed yesterday, Pedro Bella, a boy "Masco" of Company E, of the Ninth Infantry, commanded by Thomas W. Connell, who was massacred by the Samar natives at Balangiga, testified that he saw Captain Connell's death wound given by a boy of 15. The witness saw several other boys of the same age among the natives who took part in the massacre, and thought he could himself use a bolo against a soldier.

Captain Waldo E. Ayer, General Smith's adjutant general, said he had been closely in touch with all the movements and knew General Smith's plans, purposes and feeling at every phase. He added that on the general's arrival the coast was deserted and he saw the same towns filled with people when he left. But, so far as the people of Samar were concerned, he met only one man worthy of respect, who was sincere, patriotic and honorable. He must admit, however, that the man with this qualification was born at Marinduque, of Tagalog ancestry.

First Lieutenant Vandeman, of the Twenty-first infantry, who had charge of the military information bureau described, from the records, the treachery of the natives of Samar.

EXPLOSION ON THE FULTON.

Five Persons Injured on the Submarine Boat.

Lewes, Del., April 30.—An explosion of considerable severity, which injured half a dozen persons, occurred on the submarine boat Fulton yesterday, as she was running into the harbor of the Delaware breakwater. The boat was bound from Brooklyn to Norfolk and was partly submerged when the accident occurred. The most seriously injured are:

Lieutenant Oscar John, of the Austrian navy, severely bruised.

Lieutenant Arthur MacArthur, U. S. N., cut about the head.

Harry Moore, assistant engineer, injured about the head.

C. R. Minor, assistant engineer, nose split.

Charles Bechtel, gunner, severely hurt on head and body.

All the injured were sent to the United States Marine hospital and after their wounds were dressed they were discharged, with the exception of Bechtel. He will leave the hospital today.

The explosion was caused by the accumulation of gas which had been generated by the storage battery. Although the explosion was a violent one, the vessel was only slightly injured.

SHAFFER'S REPORT ENDORSED.

Few Dissenting Votes in Amalgamated Convention—President Likely to Be Re-Elected.

Wheeling, W. Va., April 30.—The Amalgamated convention yesterday with few dissenting voices, endorsed in toto President Shaffer's annual report. The committee on presidents' and other officers' reports reported favorably on the statements entrusted to it, and their recommendations were ratified by the convention. The most important of the presidents' was that of Mr. Shaffer's. In many respects it was the most interesting document ever issued by an amalgamated president. It gave the history of the strike and his explanation of every one of his many acts which aroused criticism during the momentous struggle. The president based his hopes upon his report, and it proved that he judged wisely. The action of the convention is a vindication of his entire course.

It is not likely now that there will be much opposition to Mr. Shaffer's re-election. Yesterday it was learned that Assistant Secretary M. F. Tighe informed his friends that he would not permit his name to be mentioned in connection with the office. That he will be re-elected to his present position goes without saying.

The friends of Thomas Williams, of Zanesville, a veteran member of the Amalgamated, who has been in its service since its formation from the Sons of Vulcan and the Rollers' and Heaters' union, insist that he shall be a candidate and will present his name to the convention. There is little doubt, however, that President Shaffer will be re-elected. Every move of the convention has shown that he has the whip hand.

NEURALGYLINE FOR THE NERVES

ARE YOUR NERVES SHATTERED?

Are you on the brink of nervous prostration? Are your nerves all unstrung? Do you feel a general breaking down? It's no wonder! We Americans hustle too hard, we work too much and too long, we tax our nerve power to its greatest capacity. Nerves are not iron! They must give way under the great strain. Have you not already done so? You can tell if you have by those sleepless, restless nights you have, by those constant headaches you have and by your falling appetite. If you are one of those unfortunate creatures, why don't you try a box of NEURALGYLINE, the great nerve-builder!

IT RELIEVES THE MOST SEVERE CASES OF NEURALGIA AND ALL OTHER NERVE DISORDERS.

I have been a great sufferer from neuralgia. Neuralgyline has effected a permanent cure in my case. Miss E. V. EVANS, Sistersville, W. Va.

Have suffered for over a week with neuralgic pains in the head, unable to sleep and nearly crazed with pain. Thirty minutes after taking one Neuralgyline tablet I was completely cured. Mrs. J. B. STAR, St. Paul, Minn.

MISS MONIE BOWEY,

No. 38 Perry Street,

DETROIT, MICHIGAN.

A couple of winters ago I slipped on a frozen sidewalk and fell flat on my back. On being examined I found that I had sustained internal injuries which laid me up for more than two months. After that I noticed that I had pains in the back and groin which I never had before. I doctored and doctored for several months but as the pains increased instead of growing better I decided that I was not having the right treatment. Reading in the papers of the wonderful cures performed by Wine of Cardui I wrote to one of the parties and received a very satisfactory reply and I immediately sent for some. In a very short time I felt generally better and after seven weeks faithful use I was once more well and strong. I have never had a sick hour since and I daily bless your splendid medicine.

Wine of Cardui makes women more womanly by curing their weakness and making them stronger. Wine of Cardui cured Miss Bowey. As a medicine for all women in every trying period of their lives can you think of a better medicine for yourself, your sister, your daughter or your mother? Can you think of a more acceptable present to give your friend than a bottle of this medicine which will bring her health and happiness? You are suffering? Your duty is to rid yourself of this pain. If your daughter, mother, sister or friend is sick and in need of relief, your duty is equally great to them. Many women, now well, owe their lives to friends who brought them Wine of Cardui.

Wine of Cardui is adapted to women at any age in any walk of life. For the working woman it gives her strength for her tasks and better treatment than a doctor for very small cost.

Your druggist will sell you a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui. Secure the medicine today. Take it in the privacy of your home. Relief will come to you as surely as you take it.

DISGRACE TO ARMY.

So Declares Senator Teller of General Smith's Alleged Order.

IF TRUE, HE OUGHT TO BE OUSTED

Lodge Said Order to Him Was Revolt- ing, but He Declared President Ordered Smith Court Martialed on Receiving Information.

Washington, April 30.—A spirited discussion of the Philippine situation occurred in the senate yesterday. It revolved around the order alleged to have been issued by General Jacob A. Smith, to make the island of Samar a howling wilderness and to kill all male inhabitants over the age of 10 years. The debate took a wide range, however, and many other points were discussed.

When the Philippine bill was laid before the senate no one was prepared to deliver a speech on it. Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, in charge of the measure, said he felt compelled to press it for consideration.

His remarks drew the fire of Mr. Teller, of Colorado, who criticized the Republicans for not participating in the discussion. This precipitated the debate and for more than two hours it continued. Mr. Teller declared that General Smith, if he had issued such an order as had been attributed to him, ought to be dismissed from the service, as it was a disgrace to the American army and to the American people.

Mr. Lodge said that while he knew little of the circumstances surrounding the alleged order, he did not approve of cruel methods in warfare, and every right-minded person must regret General Smith's order. To him it was revolting. He defended the administration, however, saying as soon as knowledge of the order had come to Washington the president had directed that General Smith be court martialed.

TRIAL OF GEN. SMITH.

Witness Testified a Boy Murdered Captain Connell.

Manila, April 30.—When the trial by court martial of General Jacob H. Smith was resumed yesterday, Pedro Bella, a boy "Masco" of Company E, of the Ninth Infantry, commanded by Thomas W. Connell, who was massacred by the Samar natives at Balangiga, testified that he saw Captain Connell's death wound given by a boy of 15. The witness saw several other boys of the same age among the natives who took part in the massacre, and thought he could himself use a bolo against a soldier.

Captain Waldo E. Ayer, General Smith's adjutant general, said he had been closely in touch with all the movements and knew General Smith's plans, purposes and feeling at every phase. He added that on the general's arrival the coast was deserted and he saw the same towns filled with people when he left. But so far as the people of Samar were concerned, he met only one man worthy of respect, who was sincere, patriotic and honorable. He must admit, however, that the man with this qualification was born at Marinduque, of Tagalog ancestry.

First Lieutenant Vandeman, of the Twenty-first infantry, who had charge of the military information bureau described, from the records, the treachery of the natives of Samar.

EXPLOSION ON THE FULTON.

Five Persons Injured on the Submarine Boat.

Lewes, Del., April 30.—An explosion of considerable severity, which injured half a dozen persons, occurred on the submarine boat Fulton yesterday, as she was running into the harbor of the Delaware breakwater. The boat was bound from Brooklyn to Norfolk and was partly submerged when the accident occurred. The most seriously injured are:

Lieutenant Oscar John, of the Austrian navy, severely bruised.

Lieutenant Arthur MacArthur, Jr., N. cut about the head.

Harry Moore, assistant engineer, injured about the head.

C. R. Minor, assistant engineer, nose split.

Charles Bechtel, gunner, severely hurt on head and body.

All the injured were sent to the United States Marine hospital and after their wounds were dressed they were discharged, with the exception of Bechtel. He will leave the hospital today.

The explosion was caused by the accumulation of gas which had been generated by the storage battery. Although the explosion was a violent one, the vessel was only slightly injured.

SHAFFER'S REPORT ENDORSED.

Few Dissenting Votes in Amalgamated Convention—President Likely to Be Re-Elected.

Wheeling, W. Va., April 30.—The Amalgamated convention yesterday with few dissenting voices, endorsed in toto President Shaffer's annual report. The committee on presidents' and other officers' reports reported favorably on the statements entrusted to it, and their recommendations were ratified by the convention. The most important of the presidents' was that of Mr. Shaffer's. In many respects it was the most interesting document ever issued by an amalgamated president. It gave the history of the strike and his explanation of every one of his many acts which aroused criticism during the momentous struggle. The president based his hopes upon his report, and it proved that he judged wisely. The action of the convention is a vindication of his entire course.

It is not likely now that there will be much opposition to Mr. Shaffer's re-election. Yesterday it was learned that Assistant Secretary M. F. Tighe informed his friends that he would not permit his name to be mentioned in connection with the office. That he will be re-elected to his present position goes without saying.

The friends of Thomas Williams, of Zanesville, a veteran member of the Amalgamated, who has been in its service since its formation from the Sons of Vulcan and the Rollers' and Heaters' union, insist that he shall be a candidate and will present his name to the convention. There is little doubt, however, that President Shaffer will be re-elected. Every move of the convention has shown that he has the whip hand.

NEURALGYLINE FOR THE NERVES

ARE YOUR NERVES SHATTERED?

Are you on the brink of nervous prostration? Are your nerves all unstrung? Do you feel a general breaking down? It's no wonder! Americans hustle too hard, we work too much and too long, we tax our nerve power to its greatest capacity. Nerves are not iron, they must give way under the great strain. Have you not already done so? You can tell if you have by those sleepless, restless nights you have, by those constant headaches you have and by your failing appetite. If you are one of those unfortunate creatures, why don't you try a box of NEURALGYLINE, the great nerve-builder!

Miss E. V. Evans, Sistersville, W. Va.

Have suffered for over a week with neuralgia pains in the head, unable to sleep and nearly crazed with pain. Thirty minutes after taking one Neuralgyline tablet I was completely cured.

Mr. J. B. Sims, St. Paul, Minn.

MISS MONIE BOWEY,

No. 38 Perry Street,

DETROIT, MICHIGAN.

A couple of winters ago I slipped on a frozen sidewalk and fell flat on my back. On being examined I found that I had sustained internal injuries which laid me up for more than two months. After that I noticed that I had pains in the back and groin which I never had before. I doctored and doctored for several months but as the pains increased instead of growing better I decided that I was not having the right treatment. Reading in the papers of the wonderful cures performed by Wine of Cardui I wrote to one of the parties and received a very satisfactory reply and I immediately sent for some. In a very short time I felt generally better and after seven weeks faithful use I was once more well and strong. I have never had a sick hour since and I daily bless your splendid medicine.

Wine of Cardui makes women more womanly by curing their weakness and making them stronger. Wine of Cardui cured Miss Bowey. As a medicine for all women in every trying period of their lives can you think of a better medicine for yourself, your sister, your daughter or your mother? Spalding's Silver Jubilee.

Peoria, Ill., April 30.—St. Mary's cathedral was consecrated yesterday forenoon, according to the form prescribed by the Roman Catholic church. The service began at 6 o'clock and was concluded at 11 o'clock. The public was excluded until the ceremony was nearly completed, in order that there should be no interruption. Rt. Rev. P. J. O'Reilly, auxiliary bishop of the diocese of Peoria, was the consecrator, and was assisted by Father Edwards, deacon; Father Cornelius, sub-deacon; Father Greve, arch priest; Fathers Durkin and O'Neill, and assisting priests, Fathers Samon, Cummings, Fannen Walters, Otto, Sullivan and Monville.

The service is of especial interest as commemorating the Twenty-fifth anniversary of the creation of the diocese of Peoria and the first of the exercises in celebration of the silver jubilee of Bishop John Lancaster Spalding, which will be celebrated next Thursday.

GIFT TO TUSKEGEE SCHOOL.

Atlanta Postmaster, While With Ogden Party, Gave Booker Washington $1,000 Check.

Tuskegee, Ala., April 30.—The Ogden party reached Tuskegee early yesterday and were driven to the Alabama conference college, where they were given a reception under a huge oak tree on the campus. Following this, they visited the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial institute, Booker T. Washington's school for colored students. Besides the Ogden party there were present Governor Jelks of Alabama; Postmaster Atkinson, of Atlanta, and President Charles A. Wickersham, of the Atlanta and West Point railway.

Mr. Atkinson handed Principal Washington a check for $1,000 to help on the work. The forenoon exercises at the institute were devoted to the dedication of the Carnegie library. The annual industrial exercises of Tuskegee institute were held yesterday afternoon.

Marker on Clinton's Grave.

Washington, April 30.—Surrounded by the graves of hundreds of statesmen who have made history, a score of patriotic men representing the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution assembled yesterday afternoon in the Congressional cemetery, on the banks of the eastern branch of the Potomac, and formally placed the official marker of the order at the monument of General George Clinton, New York's famous revolutionary war governor.

CONDITION OF ARCHBISHOP.

Rev. Father Curley Declared Last Night There Was Nothing to Excite Apprehension.

New York, April 30.—Rev. Father Curley said of Archbishop Corrigan's condition last night:

"There is nothing in the fact of his restlessness and weakness of today to warrant apprehension. We anticipated a slow recovery because of his extremely weak condition. The pneumonia has almost left him, only a little part of the bottom of the right lung in the back being still affected. The physicians really anticipated this relapse, but they had hoped it would not be so pronounced. He will recover, but his recovery, as the doctors say, will necessarily be slow."

The afternoon bulletin, which is usually issued about 2:30 o'clock, was not given out until after 3. This, in connection with the fact that Dr. E. G. Janeway was called in for consultation, was looked upon as suggesting that the archbishop's condition

"The archbishop is about as last reported, but is doing well."

Dr. Keyes came out of the archbishop's residence a little before the bulletin was issued. He said:

"The condition of the archbishop is serious, but not critical. We sent for Dr. Janeway because the archbishop had undergone a little collapse and it was thought best to call in Dr. Janeway. That, however, does not indicate that there is anything out of the ordinary."

Dr. Keyes said that Archbishop Corrigan had partaken of two meals yesterday, at one of which he had a little beef and beef extract. He had also had a glass of champagne, and the doctor said he expected the patient to take another glass of champagne last night.

"The archbishop is very weak," he concluded.

WM. M'KINLEY OSBORNE DEAD.

He Was Consul General to London, Cousin of the Late President.

Born at Girard, O.

London, April 30.—United States Consul General Osborne died at his residence in Wimbledon at 10:20 o'clock yesterday morning.

William McKinley Osborne was appointed consul general at London by President McKinley on March 18, 1897. He was born at Girard, O., in 1842. Later he removed to Boston. The deceased consul general was a cousin to the late President McKinley, his mother being sister to President McKinley's father.

He was a resident of Roxbury, Mass., and was appointed to London five years ago. The post is considered to be the plum of the United States foreign service, for the compensation averages about $25,000 per annum and the expenses are not particularly large. Mr. Osborne was secretary of the Republican national committee during McKinley's first campaign for the presidency. He had been ailing for several years from Bright's disease, it is believed, and he was in ill health when he last visited the United States, about two years ago. His family, a wife and several children, were with him in Europe, the eldest boy at an English college, and his younger daughters at school in Paris.

Offered to A. Clay Evans.

Washington, April 30.—The president has tendered the office of consul general to London, made vacant by the death of William McKinley Osborne, to A. Clay Evans, recently resigned as commissioner of pensions.

Fuller Syndicate So Says of Western Maryland, They Are to Get Then With Wabash.

Baltimore, April 30.—The first branch of the city council last night passed the ordinance accepting the Fuller syndicate's bid of $3,551,370.45 for the city's holdings in the Western Maryland railroad. The ordinance was then sent over to the second branch, where it was introduced as a substitute for the measure already under consideration in that branch, and received its first reading. The substitute will receive its second reading in the second branch tonight and it is expected that it will be ready for the mayor's signature tomorrow night.

The members of the Fuller syndicate declare it is their intention to connect the Western Maryland railroad as rapidly as the work can be done with the Wheeling and Lake Erie, and through it with the Wabash system and its connecting lines, thus making Baltimore the terminal of a great transcontinental line controlled by the Wabash.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS BILL.

House Passed Measure Donating Money For Many Cities.

Washington, April 30.—Under a special order, which allowed three hours' debate, but which cut off all opportunity of amendment, the house yesterday passed an omnibus public building bill which will distribute $17,405,450 among 174 cities. As the bill covers into the treasury $1,535,000, the total amount carried by the bill is reduced to that extent. The bill provides for 77 new buildings and sites, 6 buildings on sites already purchased, 17 buildings on donated sites and 53 increases in appropriations for buildings already authorized.

It also provides for the purchase of 16 sites. The majority for the bill was so overwhelming that only nine members backed a demand for the ayes and noes on the passage of the bill. There was some criticism of the method by which it was proposed to pass the bill without opportunity for amendment, which Mr. Mercer chairman of the committee, answered by stating that if the bill had been subject to amendment the appropriations carried by it would have been increased to $60,000,000. The consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill was resumed, but only seven pages were disposed of.

Miles Safe if Mum.

Washington, April 30.—It is now believed that no further consideration will be given by the president to the subject of retiring Lieutenant General Miles, so long as the commander of the army continues his present attitude of reserve, and that the case will be allowed to remain as it is unless General Miles himself should do something or take some action to revise the recent determination of the president.

Zanesville, O., April 30.—The temporary session of the Prohibition state convention convened at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and E. J. Pinney, of Cleveland, delivered the campaign keynote speech. The unexpectedly large convention and the fact that the party had reached such proportions that it could now nominate without petition were the subjects of congratulation and the party was urged to renewed effort.

"Complete tickets must be nominated in every district and county," Mr. Pinney said, "and the nominees for congress must be men who can and will take the stump and keep at work until election day."

He declared that once the vote reached 100,000, the next election would see the party in power.

He characterized the Anti-Saloon league as a failure, saying: "It has had access to all the churches of the state and spent more than $300,000 in the past 10 years. As a result of this we have seen abolished the laws prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors within two miles of an agricultural fair; the law providing for the recovery of damages for injury by an intoxicated person amended so that it is worthless, and imprisonment for Sunday selling abolished."

A central committee of 21 members was named and will continue the present state executive committee, with George L. Case, of Cleveland, as chairman. The resolutions committee favors the single prohibition plank platform. National Chairman Stewart, of Chicago, was the principal speaker at the mass meeting last night.

Peoria, Ill., April 30.—St. Mary's cathedral was consecrated yesterday forenoon, according to the form prescribed by the Roman Catholic church. The service began at 6 o'clock and was concluded at 11 o'clock. The public was excluded until the ceremony was nearly completed, in order that there should be no interruption. Rt. Rev. P. J. O'Reilly, auxiliary bishop of the diocese of Peoria, was the consecrator, and was assisted by Father Edwards, deacon; Father Cornelius, sub-deacon; Father Greve, arch priest; Fathers Durkin and O'Neill, and assisting priests, Fathers Samon, Cummings, Fannon, Walters, Otto, Sullivan and Monville.

The service is of especial interest as commemorating the Twenty-fifth anniversary of the creation of the diocese of Peoria and the first of the exercises in celebration of the silver jubilee of Bishop John Lancaster Spalding, which will be celebrated next Thursday.

Washington, April 30.—Surrounded by the graves of hundreds of statesmen who have made history, a score of patriotic men representing the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution assembled yesterday afternoon in the Congressional cemetery, on the banks of the eastern branch of the Potomac, and formally placed the official marker of the order at the monument of General George Clinton, New York's famous revolutionary war governor.

CONDITION OF ARCHBISHOP.

Rev. Father Curley Declared Last Night There Was Nothing to Excite Apprehension.

New York, April 30.—Rev. Father Curley said of Archbishop Corrigan's condition last night:

"There is nothing in the fact of his restlessness and weakness of today to warrant apprehension. We anticipated a slow recovery because of his extremely weak condition. The pneumonia has almost left him, only a little part of the bottom of the right lung in the back being still affected. The physicians really anticipated this relapse, but they had hoped it would not be so pronounced. He will recover, but his recovery, as the doctors say, will necessary be slow."

TIN MILL SCALE

Is Expected to Be Arranged on a Satisfactory Basis Tomorrow.

It is now thought that a permanent scale for the employees will be settled upon at the tin mill tomorrow, as Manager William Banfield is expected to return from Mt. Clemens at that time. No strike is anticipated, and it is thought the matter will be arranged to the satisfaction of both the mill officials and the men.

The situation is being closely watched by Chester citizens who take quite an interest in the affair.

Fined $50 and Costs.

Lisbon, April 30.—(Special)—Salineville Saloon Keeper Connors, indicted for having in his possession and distributing obscene literature, changed his plea to guilty this morning. He was fined $50 and costs in each of two counts. Connors and a barber named Duncan distributed cards as advertising matter, on which was printed this objectionable matter.

MOST ENJOYABLE BANQUET

had not been his pleasure for years to find himself among as many pretty, winsome and coquettish girls as were then surrounding him. "It always gives me pleasure to be in a crowd of ladies," said Mr. Duffy, "but it generally embarrasses me. I find it difficult to make myself at home with more than one lady, and I must confess that up to the present time my experience with one lady has not proven successful."

The entertainment program now being at an end Chairman Anderson thanked the audience for the kind appreciative attention and invited every one to be seated at the tables arranged in the hall. The invitation was quickly accepted and in a few minutes the throng around the festal board showed every evidence of delight at the choice refecton.

Dancing followed the repast until a late hour.

EIGHT KILLED BY TORNADO.

Three of Injured May Die From Injuries Received in Texas Storm.

Dallas, Tex., April 30.—A special from Granbury, Tex., confirmed the report of damage done at Glenrose by a tornado, Monday. One additional death, making a total of eight, is reported, and three of the injured probably will die. The revised list of dead follows:

Mrs. Carl Milan.
Two-year-old daughter of J. R. Milan.
Rev. Mr. Ford, pastor of the Methodist church.
Miss Mae Connell.
Musgrove, a boy.
Mrs. Gage.
Mrs. Fagg.
Unknown man.
Fatally Injured.
Mr. and Mrs. Lee.
Infant of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Trice.
There were 57 persons injured, but with the exception of the three mentioned as fatally hurt, it is thought that all will recover.

STOCKS WERE IRREGULAR.

New York, April 30.—The movement of prices was confused and irregular all of yesterday, and there was evidence of a distinguishing speculative interest. The wide movements in high priced stocks continued a feature, but the influence of the advances was impaired by some equally notable relapses in stocks where attempts were made to take profits. The railroad stocks were irregular.

The industrials were marked by quite as great irregularity as the railroads, and changes there were constant and variable. A further advance in the foreign exchange market and a drop in the rate of sterling at Paris both contributed to narrow the margin still remaining from the gold export point. The money market, however, was still undisturbed.

WILL APPEAL LAJOIE CASE.

Johnson Said It Would Be Taken to U. S. Supreme Court.

Baltimore, April 30.—President Ban B. Johnson, of the American league, was in this city yesterday. Speaking of the injunctions restraining Lajoie, Fraser and Bernhard from playing with any other than the Philadelphia National league club, Mr. Johnson said:

"We have ample grounds for a new appeal to the supreme court, and while this is pending the injunction issued by the lower court will be raised. We will give bond and the three players concerned will be at liberty to play with the Athletics. Should the decision again be unfavorable to us, we can take Lajoie's case to the United States court. The cases of the other two men cannot be taken there, because the amount involved is less than $2,000. Our attorneys are confident, and I share their confidence, that we will win out. Then the only redress the National league will have is in a civil suit for damages against each player, before a jury."

Will Suggest Lajoie as Umpire.

Baltimore, April 30.—Secretary Harry Goldman, of the Baltimore American league club, who will represent that club at the special meeting of the American league in Cleveland today, will urge the adoption of the double umpire system and the employment of Lajoie, Fraser and Bernhard as umpires.

OFFENSE OF U. S. OFFICERS.

Turned Over Table in a Vienna Restaurant—Fight Occurred Resulting Arrest.

Rome April 30.—The arrest and sentencing of the three officers and a marine of the United States cruiser Chicago, on the charge of disorderly conduct, continue to cause a sensation here and at Venice. United States Ambassador Mayer, who was absent from Rome on an automobile trip, hurriedly returned to this city, in an endeavor to reach some arrangement with the Italian authorities.

Detailed reports of the trial of the Americans say they accidentally overturned a table in the cafe piazza, at Venice, and that they were violently seized with the intention of having them conveyed to a police station, which they resisted.

The public prosecutor said he did not believe the officers were drunk and severely criticised their conduct in causing the disturbances.

In the course of the defense counsel for the defendants agreed with the public prosecutor regarding it being the duty of guests to behave correctly, but counsel demanded that the magistrate examine the case in a spirit of serenity and impartiality, which, counsel inferred, was lacking in the prosecution's attitude. Continuing, counsel declared that if the conduct of the officers was blameable, the action of the pretended injured parties was more so in refusing to accept just compensation and in hunting for dollars.

After policemen had testified to being struck with fists and two civilians had deposed to being injured on their heads and arms by canes, the court took a serious view of the case and inflicted the penalties, on the ground that public officers had been violently opposed in the exercise of their duties. The question of compensation was referred to another court.

The penalties are generally considered very severe.

FIVE PERSONS KILLED.

Santa Fe Train Wrecked Near Medill, Mo.—23 Persons Injured.

Keokuk, Ia., April 30.—The California limited, on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe road, eastbound, was derailed on a curve at Cama, a switch five miles west of Medill, Mo., yesterday, while going at a tremendous speed. The rails on the curve spread. Five persons were killed and 23 injured.

The Dead.

S. T. French, Chicago.
Mr. Weithener, San Diego, Cal.
A son of Henry C. Gates, of Australia, 5 years old.

Two others, whose names are not obtainable.

Figaro to Print Special Day of Rochambeau Monument Unveiling.

Toulon, April 30.—Orders have been given to make special arrangements for the Rochambeau mission, which is to sail from Toulon for the United States, May 5, on the battleship Gaulois, and, in view of the reception and probably a banquet, which will be given on board of her, during the vessel's stay in America, the excellent band of the Mediterranean fleet will accompany the mission.

Paris, April 30.—The Figaro announces that it will publish a special number in connection with the Rochambeau fetes, dealing with Americans in France and Frenchmen in America. It will be published May 24, the day of the unveiling of the Rochambeau monument, in Paris, New York, Washington and other big American cities.

had not been his pleasure for years to find himself among as many pretty, winsome and coquettish girls as were then surrounding him. "It always gives me pleasure to be in a crowd of ladies," said Mr. Duffy, "but it generally embarrasses me. I find it difficult to make myself at home with more than one lady, and I must confess that up to the present time my experience with one lady has not proven successful."

The entertainment program now being at an end Chairman Anderson thanked the audience for the kind appreciative attention and invited every one to be seated at the tables arranged in the hall. The invitation was quickly accepted and in a few minutes the throng around the festal board showed every evidence of delight at the choice refectory.

Dancing followed the repast until a late hour.

Three of Injured May Die From Injuries Received in Texas Storm.

Dallas, Tex., April 30.—A special from Granbury, Tex., confirmed the report of damage done at Glenrose by a tornado, Monday. One additional death, making a total of eight, is reported, and three of the injured probably will die. The revised list of dead follows:

Mrs. Carl Milan.
Two-year-old daughter of J. R. Milan.

Rev. Mr. Ford, pastor of the Methodist church.
Miss Mae Connell.

Musgrove, a boy.
Mrs. Gage.
Mrs. Fagg.
Unknown man.

Fatally Injured.
Mr. and Mrs. Lee.
Infant of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Trice.

There were 57 persons injured, but with the exception of the three mentioned as fatally hurt, it is thought that all will recover.

STOCKS WERE IRREGULAR.

New York, April 30.—The movement of prices was confused and irregular all of yesterday, and there was evidence of a distinguishing speculative interest. The wide movements in high priced stocks continued a feature, but the influence of the advances was impaired by some equally notable relapses in stocks where attempts were made to take profits. The railroad stocks were irregular.

The industrials were marked by quite as great irregularity as the railroads, and changes there were constant and variable. A further advance in the foreign exchange market and a drop in the rate of sterling at Paris both contributed to narrow the margin still remaining from the gold export point. The money market, however, was still undisturbed.

WILL APPEAL LAJOIE CASE.

Johnson Said It Would Be Taken to U. S. Supreme Court.

Baltimore, April 30.—President Ban B. Johnson, of the American league, was in this city yesterday. Speaking of the injunction restraining Lajoie, Fraser and Bernhard from playing with any other than the Philadelphia National league club, Mr. Johnson said:

"We have ample grounds for a new appeal to the supreme court, and while this is pending the injunction issued by the lower court will be raised. We will give bond and the three players concerned will be at liberty to play with the Athletics. Should the decision again be unfavorable to us, we can take Lajoie's case to the United States court. The cases of the other two men cannot be taken there, because the amount involved is less than $2,000. Our attorneys are confident, and I share their confidence, that we will win out. Then the only redress the National league will have is in a civil suit for damages against each player, before a jury."

Will Suggest Lajoie as Umpire.

Baltimore, April 30.—Secretary Harry Goldman, of the Baltimore American league club, who will represent that club at the special meeting of the American league in Cleveland today, will urge the adoption of the double umpire system and the employment of Lajoie, Fraser and Bernhard as umpires.

OFFENSE OF U. S. OFFICERS.

Turned Over Table in a Vienna Restaurant—Fight Occurred Resulting Arrest.

Rome April 30.—The arrest and sentencing of the three officers and a marine of the United States cruiser Chicago, on the charge of disorderly conduct, continue to cause a sensation here and at Venice. United States Ambassador Mayer, who was absent from Rome on an automobile trip, hurriedly returned to this city, in an endeavor to reach some arrangement with the Italian authorities.

Detailed reports of the trial of the Americans say they accidentally overturned a table in the cafe piazza, at Venice, and that they were violently seized with the intention of having them conveyed to a police station, which they resisted.

The public prosecutor said he did not believe the officers were drunk and severely criticized their conduct in causing the disturbances.

In the course of the defense counsel for the defendants agreed with the public prosecutor regarding it being the duty of guests to behave correctly, but counsel demanded that the magistrate examine the case in a spirit of serenity and impartiality, which, counsel inferred, was lacking in the prosecution's attitude. Continuing, counsel declared that if the conduct of the officers was blameable, the action of the pretended injured parties was more so in refusing to accept just compensation and in hunting for dollars.

After policemen had testified to being struck with fists and two civilians had deposed to being injured on their heads and arms by canes, the court took a serious view of the case and inflicted the penalties, on the ground that public officers had been violently opposed in the exercise of their duties. The question of compensation was referred to another court.

The penalties are generally considered very severe.

FIVE PERSONS KILLED.

Santa Fe Train Wrecked Near Medill Mo.—23 Persons Injured.

Keokuk, Ia., April 30.—The California limited, on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe road, eastbound, was derailed on a curve at Cama, a switch five miles west of Medill, Mo., yesterday, while going at a tremendous speed. The rails on the curve spread. Five persons were killed and 23 injured.

The Dead.

Well Known Street Railway Employee, A. M. Noling, Left Town Suddenly.

An elopement, far more dastardly than the one in which Policeman Stafford figured a few weeks ago, occurred Monday, and despite all efforts of the police, the missing ones have not yet been located. The principals in the affair are A. M. Noling, for eight months a conductor on the East Liverpool and Rock Springs railway, and a young woman commonly known as "Red Bird" or "Black Diamond," but whose true name is supposed to be Mary Hanlon. They left the city together Monday evening on the 7:46 west bound train and further than this no one has even a suspicion of where they are or their probable destination. The dastardliness of the affair lies in the fact that Noling deserted a wife who was at the time confined to her bed in a precarious condition, and before leaving went to a local bank and drew money amounting to nearly $300 which belonged to her and which she had saved from a year's earnings received at Mrs. Layton's restaurant in Carolina avenue, Chester, and besides this amount took $50 which she had entrusted him with, he promising to pay the interest upon some money she had borrowed.

"When I heard what he had done I just couldn't believe it," said Mrs. Noling in a broken voice when interviewed by a reporter at her home in Chester. "We have been married 13 years, and in all that time I never had the least reason to doubt his sincerity. We never quarreled in a single instance. He treated me lovingly, and at any time when I expressed a desire for anything he would always get it. We were always so happy, and why he left me I cannot explain. It seems awful that I should have lived with him so long and never suspected what kind of a man he was."

"Although it is very sad indeed, as I will have the suffering, I am really glad that I have found him out. Such a man is not fit for me, and I am happy, in a way, that he is gone. Yes, he stole some money from me. He took all I had. You see, we moved here from Hammondsville over a year ago, and after a while bought a lot on Sixth street and paid for it. When we went to build a house on it we found that we hadn't the money and borrowed enough to let us out. It amounted to several hundred dollars, and as far as I can learn now, he instead of paying out any of the money for buildings, put it in his pocket, and if he didn't spend it took it with him. It was $250 in all, and you can imagine how long it will take me to replace so much money. It was all in the bank in my name, but made payable to either of us. One hundred and twenty-five dollars which I had deposited in a Wellsville bank in '97, I guess he did not get, and that is all I have to meet the bills of the carpenters who have now nearly finished my house." Mrs. Noling, while talking cried continually and showed every sign of nervous prostration. Her friends are afraid she will break completely down as a result of the blow, and she is under the care of a physician.

Considering the undisputed reputation and high standing of Mrs. Noling, who is a relative of Ex-Mayor Dunn, of Chester, and Policeman Dunn, of this city, the offense of her husband is unexplainable. The woman with whom he left is said to be notorious. She lived in the Smoky row district most of the time, but her home is said to be on Thompson hill. She is probably 25 years of age, and of rather comely appearance.

Policeman Dunn was the last to see the departing couple. He states they boarded the west bound train, and did it openly, not even appearing uneasy or excited. When the train pulled out both waved their hands as a farewell to home and friends.

Noling on Monday applied to the office of the street railway company on Washington street, and asked to be let off for a few days, stating that he wanted to go to Mansfield to see a brother who narrowly escaped death in a runaway accident last week. He was granted the leave, and left the office stating that he would be back in less than a week.

A peculiar coincidence connecting the affair with the Stafford elopement, is that the women chosen by both men as future life partners were great friends, and where one was found the other was always sure to be found. They were sometimes called the Simese Twins. Another connecting coincidence is that each man left a leading clothing firm in the hole for considerable money.

An effort may be made to apprehend Noling, as it is the wish of his wife that he be caught and be made to suffer the penalty for stealing her money. "No excuses or pleadings will ever unite us again," said Mrs. Noling. "All I want now is that he suffer for the terrible way in which he has treated me."

G. R. Weaver, the contracting carpenter, who erected the Noling house on Sixth street, this morning filed suit in Squire Johnston's court in Chester, against the absent man for $232.48, which amount he alleges is due him as a payment in full for the house. If Noling is not apprehended he says he will not hold Mrs. Noling liable for the money, but she says she will pay it as soon as possible.

It is reported that another employee of the street railway company is missing, but he is in Youngstown visiting his father, who is dangerously ill, so his friends say.

REASONS FOR CONTEST

SET FORTH BY OPPONENTS OF CALCUTTA ROAD BONDS.

Their Allegation Is That the Election Was Not According to Law.

Much comment has been caused by the exclusive announcement in the News Review that the recent bond election in St. Clair township was to be contested. Although those who were opposed to the improvement tried to keep their intention quiet the facts leaked out and additional information has since been made public.

Certain persons opposed to the improvement called upon Clerk J. I. Ansley, of St. Clair township, and there secured particulars concerning the recent bond issue election. One of the prime movers for the improvement was said to be Elmer Birch, of Calcutta, while Oscar Birch, of this city, who owns property along the road which is to be improved, is said to be against the issue. When Mr. Birch was seen yesterday he absolutely refused to talk about the question.

It has been stated by those who are opposed to the issue that the contest will be made on two sections of the law, which, it is claimed, were not followed.

Section 1, of House bill No. 258, as passed in 1900, states that "The trustees of any township in the state shall, when a petition of 100 or more of the taxpayers of such township is presented to them praying for the improvement of the public roads," submit the matter at a general election.

The opposition claims that Calcutta road was specified in the petition, and that the general meaning of the word "roads" was left out.

Another mistake made in the election, as claimed by the opposition, is found in section 5 of the same bill, which reads: "The trustees of such township shall appoint three freeholders as commissioners, who shall serve three years from and after the date of their appointment, and such commissioners shall designate and determine the established roads of such township which shall in their opinion be improved." It is claimed that so far nothing of this sort has been done, and this one of the main points upon which the contest is to be made.

The announcement has also been made that the township could not be bonded for more than $50,000, and that not more than three mills shall be levied for the payment of the debt. It is said there is no bonded debt on St. Clair township, hence there will be no hitch on this point of law.

NO AGREEMENT YET MADE

And Superintendent Healy Agrees That the Situation Looks Unpleasant—Men Will Meet the Management Today.

Conferences between the management of the East Liverpool street railway and the executive committee of division No. 52, street railway employees are to be held this afternoon when the management of the road is to be advised of the rejection of the proposition presented by the company Monday.

The result of this conference will not be made public until a meeting of the employees is held in the East End at 1:30 o'clock in the morning. Should another proposition be presented to the men by the management of the road, it will be discussed at the meeting tonight, and if it is rejected, a vote will be taken upon the future action of the men. It is reported that a strike is probable, as there is every reason to believe that the men will accept nothing but 22 cents an hour straight, or a scale similar to that in force on the Southside line.

In anticipation of a strike on this road tomorrow, Captain Samuel B. Goucher, who operates a ferry boat between Wellsville and Congo, is arranging to make stated trips between Wellsville and this city, the first starting at 5:30, East Liverpool time. The early train on the Panhandle branch, which leaves Congo at 6:30 a. m. for Chester, would carry many Wellsville people to this city if operations on the street railway should be suspended.

Manager Healy, when asked for a statement concerning the outlook for a settlement, said there were no new developments, and that the matter was commencing to look unpleasant.

RUMOR STILL BUSY REGARDING COMBINE

Trenton Hears a Story of a Vast Consolidation Effected in East Liverpool.

NO BASIS AT ALL FOR IT

And No Present Prospect of Any Union of Interests Unless Promoters Offer Different Terms—General News in Pottery Circles.

During the past few days there have been all sorts of rumors of a combine among the potteries of this section, but so far it has been hard to learn just where the combine and promoters are.

H. I. Irwin and James H. Trainer, of Chicago, who were here last week talking combine among a number of manufacturers, were expected in the city this afternoon, when their plans would be advanced by further conferences. These gentlemen have been in the east, talking to manufacturers east of Pittsburgh, and it is said their mission was rather successful. In company with George Sebring, of Sebring, after doing a small amount of work here yesterday, they left for the east, and were expected to return this morning. They did not come, but are expected this evening.

A manufacturer said this morning that it was not likely that a combination of the potteries could be formed on the basis presented by these men. Other plans than those that have been so far presented will have to be pursued to insure success.

A telegram was received in this city late last night, stating that a report had been circulated in Trenton that Knowles, Taylor & Knowles, Laughlins and two additional potteries had formed a consolidation of interests. There was nothing in the report, however. A reporter called upon Joseph G. Lee, of the Knowles company last evening, but he stated that so far as he knew there was not the least truth in the report. "It seems that combines are growing on bushes," said Mr. Lee, "but they have not struck this town so far."

A meeting of those interested in the formation of a pool of interests in the Akron-Niles deal was held last Monday at Akron, and yesterday representatives of the companies were at Niles, where that plant was inspected, and other details looked into.

Another meeting of these parties will be held during the latter part of the week, when the plan may assume some definite form. When asked for information upon this deal this morning Eugene Bradshaw stated that he had not heard what had been done at the Niles plant yesterday, but expected to hear later.

How long will the convention last? That is the question that is agitating the mind of more than one delegate, and the general impression is that the session will more than likely last for more than a week. In the resolutions that have been prepared in book form by National Secretary T.

A MOST ENJOYABLE BANQUET HELD BY CLERKS OF THE CITY

J. Duffy over 40 resolutions have been presented to the headquarters of the organization, and it is expected that at least 60 resolutions will be presented to the convention. One of the National officers has stated that he is confident that at least 100 resolutions in all will be considered at the convention, although just how many will be presented at this time cannot be told. There will be considerable more work to be attended to at this session than there was last year, and in this event it reasonable to believe that the session will last more than six days. However, it has been stated that no work will be left undone and that everything will be finished as soon as possible.

There is a shortage of sagger clay in many potteries in this section, and unless the supply is augmented there is every reason to believe that some of the shops will be compelled to close down. At the Diamond there is practically no sagger clay. At Harker's practically the same condition prevail and also at Chetwynds'. This clay comes from New Jersey, and it is claimed the shortage is due to the inability of the railroad companies to furnish cars. In some instances potteries are drawing from one another for this kind of clay, but there conditions.

BRILLIANT SCENES

IN THE SCOTTISH REFORMATION PRODUCTION.

Features of the Great Historical Entertainment to Be Presented May 8 and 9.

Mrs. H. E. Monron, the popular lecturer, will give another of her entertainments on May 8 and 9 for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. The entertainment opens with a processional, "The Rallying of the Clans," led by seven couples of Puritans and followed by bag pipes, Highlanders, Scotchmen and maids, royalists, etc. During the march many intricate figures will be executed and several choruses sung.

Mrs. Monron begins her lectures on John Knox and Mary Stuart, and the first scene introduced is one of 25 men, Puritans and students who are on their way to Leith to the queen's coronation. Several selections of music close the scene, after considerable dialogue, and the lecture continues.

The central scene of the evening is the court scene, where John Knox was summoned to appear before Queen Mary and her Scottish court. The queen will be seen upon her throne, surrounded by her courtly company in long trained satin dresses for the ladies, and the gentlemen attired in the style of Henry VIII., all the company wearing the Elizabethan ruffs.

In addition to the court men and women there will be details of men from the Knights of Pythias and Golden Eagle in their uniforms, who act as guards for the court, companies of Highlanders in their "kilts," who, with bag pipes, constitute a guard for the queen; princes from the different courts of Europe; pages, priests, etc. During the scene many Scottish ballads will be sung. The solo, "Annie Laurie," sung to a harp accompaniment, will be one of the many delightful features.

The lecture continues and the scene following the court scene will be the queen's execution. The queen is bidding farewell to her ladies-in-waiting, her favorite maids, English ambassadors and English soldiers and priests; a sheriff and his uniformed men, Scotch soldiers, etc., will all take part. The scene is very pathetic and entirely different from the court scene.

The lecture concludes and the evening closes with another processional, "The Triumph of the Puritans," in which all take part.

Made By the Street Railway for a Purpose Not Yet Explained.

The East Liverpool Street Railway company, through Manager L. W. Healy, has purchased from W. L. Smith, of this city, an acre of ground near Wellsville for $600. The land is located between the C. & P. railroad and the street railway at "Driven from Home" hill.

This land is in a hollow, and no word can be received from the company as to what will be done with the property. A fill is now being made at this place, and it may be that the company will fill the hollow.

Entertainment Given by Unions No. 133 and 292 a Big Success.

FEAST AND DECORATIONS

Both of a High Order While a Superb Program Was Presented.

MUSIC EXCELLENT SPEECHES

Characterized an Evening Full of Enjoyment For a Large Gathering. Dancing Followed a Most Excellent Entertainment.

The joint banquet and entertainment given last night by the Retail Clerks' union, No. 133, and the Grocers' and Butchers' local, No. 292, was a grand success.

Not less than one hundred members of the two unions were present and had a most enjoyable time.

The hall over the postoffice presented a beautiful appearance, being decorated with flowers, plants and tapestries. The platform on which the entertainers stood was a bower of artistic beauty.

Young lady clerks were there in great numbers, and to their presence is credited the enjoyableness of the occasion. In fine attire, combined with enhancing beauty, they moved about fairy-like, through the spacious hall, attracting many admiring glances.

President Shriver, of local 292, was introduced by Chairman J. E. Anderson, president of local No. 133, at 8:30 and in the opening address extended a hearty welcome to all.

"Sparkling eyes," said Mr. Shriver, "are very important in making friendship, and that being the case friendship certainly exists here tonight, as in my life I never saw before more sparkling eyes."

Little Miss McFadden, in singing "Hello, Central! Give Me Heaven," brought tears to the eyes of many. The sentiment of the song is particularly sad and she sang it most pathetically.

A recitation by Miss Heakin, of Wellsville, was much appreciated, she being an elocutionist of rare ability.

The Misses Agner played a piano duet and received merited applause.

"The Idea of Organization" was the subject on which E. W. Hill addressed the audience. In a most impressive and convincing manner he clearly defined the idea from an abstract and then finite view. He condemned certain organizations, such as the beef trust, as instruments of refined cruelty in forcing the prices of the necessities of life so high that children, men and women were deprived of necessary nourishment.

"To the church," he said, "is given the working out of man's spiritual salvation. To the labor unions is given the working out of man's industrial salvation. As in the old spelling schools, the man of ability raised himself to the head of his class, so in the great lineup of the human family, we take rank according to our ability."

He spoke of the greed of those who, after amassing more than a sufficiency, continued to pile up more dollars, and said that through organization and the fraternity engendered thereby, men could curtail this greed and better the condition of their fellows.

"Don't wrong yourselves or others; don't squeeze or tyrannize or act arbitrarily, but do instill the spirit of justice into all your acts that all may be benefited by your organized efforts."

A vocal solo rendered by Clyde M. Hamilton was one of the features of the evening. Mr. Hamilton has a rich, deep voice and was lustily applauded by his appreciative listeners.

Another recitation by Miss Heakin was received with pleasure.

Miss Margaret Baxter sang beautifully a soprano solo entitled "Sometime." Miss Baxter sings with the grace and ease which always brings forth merited praise from music loving people.

T. J. Duffy, secretary of the N. B. of O. P., being in the audience, was called upon to make an address and in a pleasing manner gave utterance to a few extemporaneous remarks on the labor question as pertaining to organizations. To the ladies present he paid a high tribute, acknowledging that it

EAST END

NOT YET DECIDED

Illness of Rev. H. M. Aiken's Wife May Keep Him From East End Pastorate.

Word has been received from Rev. H. M. Aiken, of DuBois, Pa., who received a call to become pastor of the Second U. P. church, that he has not yet decided whether he will accept. Mr. Aiken stated that his wife was very ill, and that she would more than likely be compelled to enter a hospital. For this and no other reason, the call of the East End congregation may not be accepted.

Sufficient time will be extended to Mr. Aiken, and if, at the last moment, it is found that he will be unable to take up the pastoral work here, another congregational meeting will be held.

ENLARGING THE CHURCH

Question Considered By Erie Street M. E. Church Trustees.

A meeting of the trustees of the Erie street M. E. church was held in the church last evening for the purpose of considering the plan for enlarging the church.

It was decided that nothing should be done just at present, although the needs of the church were taken into consideration. It is likely this matter will be again taken up, and at no distant date.

Question of New Hall.

The meeting of the Senior Mechanics of the East End, which will be held tomorrow evening, will be an important one. At this session the matter of vacating their present hall and meeting in the new Larkins & Ferguson hall will be considered. Nearly all the lodges that have met in this hall in past years are now meeting in the Larkins & Ferguson building, as the latter hall is almost twice as large as the hall on Mulberry street.

P. H. C. Social a Success

It is estimated that no less than 500 persons attended the social given last evening in the Larkins & Ferguson hall by the East End branch of the Protected Home circle. The affair was quite an enjoyable one, and it is said the lodge cleared almost $100.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

N. J. Orr is ill at his home on Pennsylvania avenue.

The leak in the gas main on Ohio avenue has at last been repaired. The gas has been leaking from this main for several months, but could not be repaired on account of the high water.

It was rumored in the East End this morning that a well known ghost kilnman at Laughlin No. 2 and a well known young lady residing in Helena are to be married before the end of the week.

PROBATE MATTERS

Two Wills Filed for Probate—Administrator for Mrs. Eliza Blythe's Estate.

Lisbon, April 30. — (Special) — The will of Sarah G. F. Swartz, late of East Liverpool, was admitted to probate yesterday. Mary E. Mitchell is executrix.

The will of John Peter Hommel, late of Wellsville, has been probated.

Heber H. Blythe has been appointed administrator of the estate of Eliza F. Blythe, late of East Liverpool. Bond $4,600. The appraisers are R. G. Thompson, H.W. Harker and W. C. Dunlap.

PENSION OF $663

Pension of $663 Granted to Ralph A. Woods, a Spanish-American War Veteran.

Ralph A. Woods, formerly a member of Company E, of this city, in the Spanish-American war, has been granted a pension of $17 a month, for a term of 39 months. The government has set up the claim that the disability of Mr. Wood has ceased, hence the limitations of the pension.

Woods will receive a total of $663, after all fees have been deducted, and the voucher was sent off yesterday.

Distress After Eating

Nausea between meals, belching, vomiting, flatulence, fits of nervous headache, pain in the stomach, are all symptoms of dyspepsia, and the longer it is neglected the harder it is to cure it.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Radically and permanently cure it—strengthen and tone the stomach and other digestive organs for the natural performance of their functions.

Accept no substitute for Hood's. "I had dyspepsia twenty-five years and took different medicines but got no help until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Have taken four bottles of this medicine and can now eat almost anything, sleep well, have no cramps in my stomach, no burning and no distress." Mrs. WILLIAM G. BARRETT, 14 Olney St., Providence, R. I. Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

C. B. WICK,
E. A. KING,

A bill is before congress making the
use of the metric system compulsory
in government departments. Noted
men of science as well as prominent manufacturers have advocated the
legal, and they think it should be made
compulsory. The problem of introducing the system generally is certainly not easy, but that the change ought to be made there is no question. In the public schools alone it would result in
the saving of an incalculable amount
of time, labor and patience. The tables of weights and measures, over which pupils in arithmetic spend
months, if not years, could be master-
ed in less than a third of the time
now required, and a thorough knowledge of the subject gained. Valuable time now expended on the intricate problems of the school books could be saved for better uses. This fact alone
is one of the strongest recommendations for the proposed change. Everybody knows how easy it is to reckon
money in dollars, dimes and cents, and
how difficult to reckon in pounds, shillings and pence. Apply the same system to all sorts of weights and measures and the most common and most useful sort of mathematics would become interesting and attractive, instead of, as now, a terror to the average schoolboy.

The naval appropriation bill carries
$77,659,000, a slight decrease from last year. It provides for six new warships, to cost approximately $29,000,- 000. It also provides for 500 additional naval cadets, 125 to be appointed
each year for four years. The report shows that since 1882 there have been added to the navy 79 vessels, costing $124,899,091, and that 59 vessels are
now under construction, to build which
then have 138 vessels, costing $235,- 082,209. Of these vessels the report says: "Our naval prowess lies almost entirely in our 18 battleships, eight
armored cruisers and 21 protected
cruisers. The rest of our ships would cut but little figure in actual war.
Ships of the battle line practically
a nation."

Upwards of 50,000 children are now
being educated in Porto Rico's public schools. Three years ago the island
had no public schools, and less than 1,000 children were enjoying educational advantages. Porto Ricans have person to bless the day that Uncle Sam
planted his flag among them.

The senate is showing a disposition to get to the truth regarding the tales of cruelty in the Philippines. It will probably be found that enemies of the accused officers have been doing some very industrious work in the art of lying. If so, the men under fire should welcome the investigation. It will not do to condemn unheard men who have heretofore borne a blameless reputation. If the charges are sustained, the offenders are inexcusable and merit condign punishment.

William Waldorf Astor has kept at it until, it is said, he is to be made an English baron. He has been snubbed by royalty and the "upper societies" and his efforts to break into society ridiculed, but his hard American dollars appear to have paved the way to a title, if nothing else.

Not a single surprise in the Transvaal has been reported for weeks. Let us hope that no news is good news; and that the dove of peace has found a perch and won't be disturbed.

The Prohibitionists of Ohio propose to have but one plank in their platform. It makes no difference; they couldn't walk to victory on it if it contained a dozen.

Senator Clark, of Montana, was fined in Washington for transgressing the law. There is a current impression that it was not his first offense in that direction.

Emperor William has come to understand that it is better for a nation to have a few "captains of industry" than a multitude of the scions of nobility.

No, the czar is not going to engage in a foreign war just yet. With whole provinces of peasantry up in arms he has all he can attend to at home.

Present prices of farm and dairy produce ought to induce the farmer's son to remain on the farm if he knows when he is well off.

It is reported that there is one alley in East Liverpool that is really clean, but the report lacks confirmation.

AT THE THEATER

There will be a "pepper-hot" comedy at the Grand tomorrow night. "The Girl From Chili" is the suggestive title of the play. It is entirely new to this city. Marie Lamour and Frederic Murphy, the two clever stars of that delicious comedy, "A Wise Woman," that has been presented here several times in the past, are being heavily featured in the present play.

Great preparations are being made
Rock Springs park Monday, June 2.
Already the management of the park
and members of the Brotherhood who
have the picnic in charge are sending advertising matter broadcast, and
from present indications one of the
largest crowds that ever attended a Brotherhood outing will be there
this summer. The rate from Wheeling on this occasion will be 90 cents for a round trip, while a rate of 60 cents
will prevail from Steubenville.

Work was started today in rebuilding the part of the Akron China Company's plant which was burned a few weeks ago. For the past week a force of men has been clearing away the rubbish and debris caused by the fire.
T. N. Cook, secretary of the company, has said: "It will not take a great while to complete the work and we expect to start the factory, at least in part, inside of two weeks."

Andrew Wilson, a salesman for the National, who came in from a southwestern trip a few days ago, left yesterday for a trip of six weeks through
the northwest.

George Smith, secretary of Kiln-men's Local No. 9, who has been elected a delegate to the Trenton convention, is not sure that he can leave tomorrow to take part in the work of
the auditing committee which has been assigned him. Mrs. Smith is quite ill at her home on Florence street, and Mr. Smith's trip east will depend upon her condition.

It has been stated that the clay
shops at Laughlin No. 3 will start next Monday, although it was expected that
the company would be able to start
this shop this week. The names of the department managers of this new plant will probably be announced in a
few days.

A plot of ground at the corner of Lalor and Hancock streets has been purchased by the Trenton Pottery Company for the purpose of making
an extension to its plant. The site
gives the firm a frontage on Hancock

RENOUNCES A CROWN.

to Wed American Girl.

Love levels all ranks, and royalty is
no more proof against Cupid's darts
than are persons of ordinary clay.
That is why Prince Eugene of Sweden has renounced all claim to the crown and will make Miss Helen Gorham Wild of West Virginia his bride.

young women in the Parisian artistic
set. Prince Eugene is the fourth son of the king of Sweden. He has lived
for years in the Latin quarter and is a painter of distinction. It was in one of the studios of Paris that the prince
first met the young American girl, fascinating, black haired and the acknowledge beauty of the American colony, and fell in love with her.

A Painter's Troubles.

The desire of the Bank of England
officials to discover forgers has sometimes led to curious mistakes. On one occasion the painter George Morland,
in his eagerness to avoid his duns, retired to an obscure hiding place in Hackney, where his anxious looks and secluded manner of life induced some
of his neighbors to believe him a forger
of notes then in existence.

The directors, on being informed, dispatched some dexterous detectives to
the residence, but Morland's suspicions were aroused by their movements in front of the house and, thinking them
bailiffs, escaped from the back to Lee-
don.

Mrs. Morland informed the visitors
of her husband's name and showed them some unfinished pictures. The facts were reported to the directors,
who presented Morland with two twenty
pound notes by way of compensation
for the alarm.

Unique Tablecloth.

When a southeast wind is blowing,
the visitor to Cape Town is treated to a peculiar and interesting natural phenomenon, for under such conditions
Table mountain, in the language of
the natives, "puts on a tablecloth."

In other words, the thin line of fleece cloud forming above it descends
until it rests flat upon the mountain
top, with its edges drooping gracefully
over its sides.

It is really not unlike the article of household use which gives it its name.

Forethought.

"Why, I didn't know you had weak eyes, Mortimer!" exclaimed his very best girl.

"I haven't," returned Mortimer earnestly. "I have come to ask your father for your hand tonight, and it is a
state prison offense to strike a person
wearing glasses in the eye."—Brooklyn

PROTESTS ARE HEARD

Regarding the Construction of a Retaining Wall on James Street.

Numerous protests have been heard among the prominent citizens of the city recently relative to a stone retaining wall constructed in front of a few houses located on James street, beyond little Yellow Creek. Many people who are not familiar with the circumstances claim that an ordinance was railroaded through council, whereby the city would have to stand the entire expense of the wall, which cost in the neighborhood of $500, and which only benefits a few property holders.

A number of residents who do not understand the matter have spoken to new members of council, asking them to look into the matter and see if this expense could not be avoided. Nothing will be done in the matter, however, and it is thought the matter will not again be brought up.

MINOR NEWS OF WELLSVILLE.

He Was Rather "Close."

An English clergyman of the eighteenth century, the Rev. Mr. Jones of Blewbury, with a nest egg of £200 and a stipend amounting to £50 per annum, left at death the sum of £10,000. He had been rector of his parish for forty years, and during all that time only one person had been known to sit at his festal table. No fire was ever lighted in his house, nor was a servant kept. In winter he would visit his parishioners to keep himself from perishing of cold rather than light a fire at the rectory.—Cassell's Journal.

TIRED OF HIS CROWN

WHY KING LEOPOLD OF BELGIUM

King Leopold of Belgium, gayest of monarchs, whose many escapades have been a scandal in Europe for years, is at last in serious trouble. His present difficulties are due to his subjects, who so far forgot "the divinity that doth hedge about a king" as to chase his royal highness through the streets of Brussels, threatening bodily harm. On top of the mobbing comes the report that Leopold is to abdicate his throne in favor of his nephew, Prince Albert.

An alarming feature of the situation in Belgium is the suspicion that prevails as to the loyalty of the army to the king. The rank and file of the army are believed to be in sympathy with the present Socialistic-Republican movement. These things, it is alleged, have made King Leopold weary of his job.

King Leopold is an up to date monarch. He has always been a hard worker, and though he is no longer young and has a white beard of patriarchal length, his alertness is that of a man in the prime of life.

He gets up at 5 o'clock in the morning, winter and summer, and by 7 o'clock he has read, digested and annotated all his vast correspondence. Sometimes he reads his letters in his study, but if the weather be fine he gets out into the beautiful park of his palace at Laeken and reads them as he walks up and down. Exercise, hard work, sobriety in eating and drinking—these are his sources of health and vitality.

Few Brussels shopkeepers of good position live more simply than the king of Belgium. At 8 o'clock he has a few grapes, a peach and a cup of chocolate. At noon he takes what is called on the continent his second breakfast. It consists of scrambled eggs, steak and a Hamburg fillet, a favorite and special dish of his, and some spinach.

Dinner is at the early and unfashionable hour of 6, and it consists of soup, a small entree, a bit of roast beef, game when in season, asparagus and a little fruit. He drinks just three glasses of wine, never more, and it is always a still wine. Champagne he does not touch.

King Leopold is an ardent devotee of the automobile. In just thirteen minutes exactly every morning when he is at Laeken he traverses the distance between there and his palace in Brussels. There is a story of his chauffeur being recently threatened with arrest by a zealous police officer not because of the danger to foot passengers, the courtly officer hastened to explain, but because the speed threatened to cause an accident to the king himself.

At the age of sixty-eight King Leopold II. is one of the gayest young fellows in Europe. He married at the age of eighteen Archduchess Marie Henriette of Austria, and her troubles with her royal husband began on the honeymoon. His friendship with one of his wife's retainers was apparent to all, and Leopold took no pains to conceal his infatuation. Ever since then his ministers and family have been bothered constantly to keep the old man out of mischief. They do not succeed well. There is no telling when he is going to break out next.

When the lines have been drawn too tight on him in Brussels, Leopold throws off the cares of state and hies himself across the border to Paris. There he has his ding before listening to the dignified councilors of state who post after him.

As to the reports of abdication, it is difficult to get at their source. It is known in his own country that King Leopold is getting tired of politics, and the event is not at all improbable.

Prince Albert, King Leopold's nephew, is twenty-seven years old. A year and a half ago he married Duchess Elizabeth of Bavaria, who is one year his junior. Theirs was a real love match.

There are those who think Prince Albert is yet unprepared to rule, and that the king will wait until his pupil has acquired more knowledge in the art of being a constitutional monarch. However this may be, the king's humor at present points to an early abdication.

Monstrous Force of Tornadoes.

Much has been said about electricity as a factor for destructiveness in the various gyrating stormclouds known as cyclones, drechones and tornadoes. In all of this voluminous mass of so called scientific opinions and deductions one fact seems to have been entirely overlooked—viz, the almost resistless force of wind when moving with high velocity. When the velocity is but fifty miles an hour, the pressure of air in motion is equal to twelve pounds to the square foot, and when this velocity rises to a hundred miles per hour its force rises to the equivalent of 49.2 pounds to the square foot, the augmentation of force being always proportional to the square of the velocity.

It needs no further elaboration or amplification of this statement to convey to the intelligent reader an idea of the monstrous mechanical force which such a rapid traveling mass of air must have, a power great enough to tear down any structure that has yet been built by man or to uproot whole forests of the largest trees now growing on the surface of the earth.

HARRY S. NEW.

William M. Johnson of New Jersey, who voluntarily retired because of ill health and the demands of his large business interests in New Jersey.

Captain Harry S. New is a son of John C. New, who served as treasurer of the United States in Grant's cabinet, as assistant secretary of the treasury under Arthur and as consul general at London during President Harrison's administration.

The younger New is well known as editor and publisher of the Indianapolis Journal. His military title was obtained by service at Jacksonville, Fla., during the war with Spain, where he served as assistant adjutant general of volunteers, with the rank of captain.

Names in Ireland.

A contributor to The Pilot finds that in every thousand of the population in Ireland 13.8 bear the name Murphy, 11.8 the name of Kelly and 9.2 the name of Sullivan. These three names lead all others by a long gap. The somewhat popular notion that the Mc's and the O's stand at the head of the list of Irish surnames is thus disposed of.

SOUTH SIDE

THE CHESTER ELECTION

Chester tomorrow votes on the proposition to issue $24,000 of bonds to pave First street and Carolina avenue. It is generally thought the proposition will be defeated. One of the leading business men in Chester puts forward the following argument against bonds:

"The present assessment of Chester is four mills. This provides about $2,000, or $500 per mill. The interest on $24,000 is $1,440 per year, or three mills. To provide a sinking fund of say $1,000 per year would require two mills. This would take 24 years to pay the debt off, and increase the tax from four mills or 40 cents to nine mills or 90 cents, and stop any further improvements for that time.

"If this bond issue is turned down and the matter is taken up so as to provide for the street-railway company to help pay the county and the Panhandle railroad to help on the bridge, we would not need over $7,000, instead of $24,000. Think of this before you vote tomorrow."

SPIRITED CONTEST

Spirited Contest in Progress for the Nomination for County Clerk in Hancock.

The three Republican candidates in the field are W. H. Beebout and A. S. Cooper, New Cumberland, and T. M. Cochran, Clay district.

The Republican primaries will be held on June 7.

Town Well Lighted.

The fifteen new gas lamps, which were ordered of Risinger Bros., at East Liverpool, by the Chester council some time ago, have at last all been installed. The town is now well lighted and the lights continue to burn night and day.

CHESTER NOTES.

A new platform is being placed just west of the Chester Pan Handle depot.

T. M. Cochran, of the Clay district was in Chester this morning on business.

Postmaster S. F. Rose is on the sick list, and is hardly able to attend to his official duties.

Mrs. William Spring, of Fairview, visited Chester and East Liverpool friends yesterday.

Paul Finley, of First street, son of Joseph Finley, who has been sick for the past few days, is somewhat improved.

Garrett Mercer's new house on Carolina avenue is now rapidly nearing completion. It will be ready for occupancy within a few days.

Douglas Jerrold in School.

Douglas Jerrold wrote "Black Eyed Susan" when he was twenty-one and contributed to Punch the immensely popular "Cradle Lectures" not long afterward. But at nine years of age young Jerrold had been scarcely able to read, and it was not until he was apprenticed to a printer, after serving for some time as a midshipman at sea, that he showed either desire or capacity for intellectual improvement.

Two Mindedness.

High mindedness and right mindedness may profitably be supplemented by "two mindedness," which has been defined as the habit of taking into account what is urged on both sides and trying to combine the essential parts of the two opposing arguments into one higher truth. Magnanimity, honesty, breadth—a trio of qualities worth possessing and the last by no means the least.

An Interruption.

The prayer meeting was held at good Brother W.'s house on the hill. The meeting had progressed, and prayer and remarks and hymns had occupied the time. The hour of closing had almost arrived. The dominie in a low voice said: "Now there is just a moment left. 'Isn't there some one who would like to fill in that moment before we close?' There was dead silence when in the twinkling of an eye the door on the clock flew open, and out popped the head of a little bird, which said, "Cuckoo!"—Homiletic Review.

A PRETTY POSTMISTRESS NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH.

THOUSANDS of women suffer from systemic catarrh. This is sure to produce such symptoms as cold feet and hands, sick headache, palpitation of the heart and heavy feelings in the stomach.

Then begins a series of experiments with medicine. They take medicine for sick headache. They take medicine for nervous prostration, for palpitation of the heart, for dyspepsia. None of these medicines do any good because they do not reach the cause of the complaint.

Systemic catarrh is the trouble. Systemic catarrh pervades the whole system, deranges every organ, weakens every function. No permanent cure can be expected until the systemic catarrh is removed.

This is exactly what Peruna will do. Miss Alma Cox, Assistant Postmistress of Orum, S. C., writes:

"I have been a great sufferer from chronic disease and dyspepsia for five years. How I suffered no tongue can tell. I tried eight or ten of the best physicians without receiving much benefit, also tried lots of patent medicines. But still I suffered with sick headache, cold feet and hands, palpitation of the heart, and such a heavy feeling in my stomach and chest. At times I would be so nervous I could not bear anyone around me. I had been given up to die.

"One day a friend sent me one of Dr. Hartman's pamphlets, and I decided to write to him. He advised Peruna and Manalin, and after taking the medicine two weeks I felt greatly relieved. My head did not pain me any more, and my stomach was relieved of its heavy feeling.

Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, of Columbus, O., gives advice to women free during the summer months.

feeling. I am so thankful that I can say after using several bottles of the Peruna and Manalin I am restored to perfect health.

"Before using your remedies I could not eat anything. I lived on barley water and Panopeptin for two years. Now I can eat with pleasure. Everybody is so surprised at my improvement. Everyone says I am looking like a rose. I would advise all suffering women to take your remedies. I know if it were not for Peruna and Manalin I would have been in my grave to-day. I cannot thank you enough for the kind advice you have given me."—MISS ALMA L. COX.

Senator M. C. Butler, ex-Governor of South Carolina, writes from Washington, D. C., the following:

"I can recommend Peruna for dyspepsia and stomach trouble. I have been using your medicine for a short period, and I feel very much relieved. It is indeed a wonderful medicine, and besides a great tonic!"—M. C. Butler.

Peruna restores health in a normal way. Peruna puts right all the mucous membranes of the body, and in this way restores the functions of every organ.

Criticizing a Portrait.

Walter Dean, Sr., once hired an artist to paint his portrait, with the stipulation that the picture would not be accepted and paid for unless it looked like himself. When the portrait was completed, it was sent to Mr. Dean, who did not recognize himself and absolutely refused to pay the painter. The painter sued, and Joe Strong, the artist, was called in to give an expert opinion.

"You see the portrait of Mr. Dean?" the lawyer asked.

"No," said Mr. Strong. "I do not."

"There it is," said the lawyer, pointing to the big canvas.

"I don't call that a portrait. I call that a map of Mr. Dean," said Mr. Strong.

What's in a Name?

"I became very much interested in a chance companion on a railway train," said a New York clergyman. "He was plainly of Italian birth or extraction, and so I remarked to him:

"Where were you born?"

"In Genoa," replied the young man.

"And what is your name?"

"Patrick Murphy."

"How in the world did you get that name? I asked instinctively.

"I took it," replied the young man.

"Why did you choose such a name?"

Prunes.

Dr. Hanson, writing on the subject of prunes, says: "A pound of prunes is equivalent as food to a gallon of milk and costs but a quarter as much. It is about equivalent to a pound of bread, but is far more healthful. Considered from an economic standpoint, no fresh meat, fish, milk or eggs can be provided for the same moderate cost, and none of them contains, even approximately, the same aggregate of nutritive elements."

DISGRACE TO ARMY.

So Declares Senator Teller of General Smith's Alleged Order.

IF TRUE, HE OUGHT TO BE OUSTED

Lodge Said Order to Him Was Revolving, but He Declared President Ordered Smith Court Martialed on Receiving Information.

Washington, April 30.—A spirited discussion of the Philippine situation occurred in the senate yesterday. It revolved around the order alleged to have been issued by General Jacob A. Smith, to make the island of Samar a howling wilderness and to kill all male inhabitants over the age of 10 years. The debate took a wide range, however, and many other points were discussed.

When the Philippine bill was laid before the senate no one was prepared to deliver a speech on it. Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, in charge of the measure, said he felt compelled to press it for consideration.

His remarks drew the fire of Mr. Teller, of Colorado, who criticized the Republicans for not participating in the discussion. This precipitated the debate and for more than two hours it continued. Mr. Teller declared that General Smith, if he had issued such an order as had been attributed to him, ought to be dismissed from the service, as it was a disgrace to the American army and to the American people.

Mr. Lodge said that while he knew little of the circumstances surrounding the alleged order, he did not approve of cruel methods in warfare, and every right-minded person must regret General Smith's order. To him it was revolting. He defended the administration, however, saying as soon as knowledge of the order had come to Washington the president had directed that General Smith be court martialed.

TRIAL OF GEN. SMITH.

Witness Testified a Boy Murdered Captain Connell.

Manila, April 30.—When the trial by court martial of General Jacob H. Smith was resumed yesterday, Pedro Bella, a boy "Mascot" of Company E, of the Ninth Infantry, commanded by Thomas W. Connell, who was massacred by the Samar natives at Balangiga, testified that he saw Captain Connell's death wound given by a boy of 15. The witness saw several other boys of the same age among the natives who took part in the massacre, and thought he could himself use a bolo against a soldier.

Captain Waldo E. Ayer, General Smith's adjutant general, said he had been closely in touch with all the movements and knew General Smith's plans, purposes and feeling at every phase. He added that on the general's arrival the coast was deserted and he saw the same towns filled with people when he left. But so far as the people of Samar were concerned, he met only one man worthy of respect, who was sincere, patriotic and honorable. He must admit, however, that the man with this qualification was born at Marinduque, of Tagalog ancestry.

First Lieutenant Vandeman, of the Twenty-first infantry, who had charge of the military information bureau described, from the records, the treachery of the natives of Samar.

EXPLOSION ON THE FULTON.

Five Persons Injured on the Submarine Boat.

Lewes, Del., April 30.—An explosion of considerable severity, which injured half a dozen persons, occurred on the submarine boat Fulton yesterday, as she was running into the harbor of the Delaware breakwater. The boat was bound from Brooklyn to Norfolk and was partly submerged when the accident occurred. The most seriously injured are:

Lieutenant Oscar John, of the Austrian navy, severely bruised.

Lieutenant Arthur MacArthur, U. S. N., cut about the head.

Harry Moore, assistant engineer, injured about the head.

C. R. Minor, assistant engineer, nose split.

Charles Bechtel, gunner, severely hurt on head and body.

All the injured were sent to the United States Marine hospital and after their wounds were dressed they were discharged, with the exception of Bechtel. He will leave the hospital today.

The explosion was caused by the accumulation of gas which had been generated by the storage battery. Although the explosion was a violent one, the vessel was only slightly injured.

SHAFFER'S REPORT ENDORSED.

Wheeling, W. Va., April 30.—The Amalgamated convention yesterday with few dissenting voices, endorsed in toto President Shaffer's annual report. The committee on presidents' and other officers' reports reported favorably on the statements entrusted to it, and their recommendations were ratified by the convention. The most important of the presidents' was that of Mr. Shaffer's. In many respects it was the most interesting document ever issued by an amalgamated president. It gave the history of the strike and his explanation of every one of his many acts which aroused criticism during the momentous struggle. The president based his hopes upon his report, and it proved that he judged wisely. The action of the convention is a vindication of his entire course.

It is not likely now that there will be much opposition to Mr. Shaffer's re-election. Yesterday it was learned that Assistant Secretary M. F. Tighe informed his friends that he would not permit his name to be mentioned in connection with the office. That he will be re-elected to his present position goes without saying. The friends of Thomas Williams, of Zanesville, a veteran member of the Amalgamated, who has been in its service since its formation from the Sons of Vulcan and the Rollers' and Heaters' union, insist that he shall be a candidate and will present his name to the convention. There is little doubt, however, that President Shaffer will be re-elected. Every move of the convention has shown that he has the whip hand.

ARE YOUR NERVES SHATTERED?

Are you on the brink of nervous prostration? Are your nerves all unstrung? Do you feel a general breaking down? It's no wonder! We Americans hustle too hard, we work too much and too long, we tax our nerve power to its greatest capacity. Nerves are not iron! They must give way under the great strain. Have yours not already done so? You can tell if yours have by those sleepless, restless nights you have, by those constant headaches you have and by your falling appetite. If you are one of those unfortunate creatures, why don't you try a box of NEURALGYLINE, the great nerve-builder!

Miss E. V. EVANS, Sistersville, W. Va.

Have suffered for over a week with neuralgic pains in the head, unable to sleep and nearly crazed with pain. Thirty minutes after taking one Neuralgyline tablet I was completely cured.

Mr. J. B. SISK, St. Paul, Minn.

NEURALGYLINE is for sale at every first-class druggist in this country and Canada. Sample free. Price per box, 25 cents.

MISS MONIE BOWEY,

No. 38 Perry Street,

DETROIT, MICHIGAN.

A couple of winters ago I slipped on a frozen sidewalk and fell flat on my back. On being examined I found that I had sustained internal injuries which laid me up for more than two months. After that I noticed that I had pains in the back and groin which I never had before. I doctored and doctored for several months but as the pains increased instead of growing better I decided that I was not having the right treatment. Reading in the papers of the wonderful cures performed by Wine of Cardui I wrote to one of the parties and received a very satisfactory reply and I immediately sent for some. In a very short time I felt generally better and after seven weeks faithful use I was once more well and strong. I have never had a sick hour since and I daily bless your splendid medicine.

Miss Monie Bowey.

Wine of Cardui makes women more womanly by curing their weakness and making them stronger. Wine of Cardui cured Miss Bowey. As a medicine for all women in every trying period of their lives can you think of a better medicine for yourself, your sister, your daughter or your mother? Can you think of a more acceptable present to give your friend than a bottle of this medicine which will bring her health and happiness? You are suffering? Your duty is to rid yourself of this pain. If your daughter, mother, sister or friend is sick and in need of relief, your duty is equally great to them. Many women, now well, owe their lives to friends who brought them Wine of Cardui.

Wine of Cardui is adapted to women at any age in any walk of life. For the working woman it gives her strength for her tasks and better treatment than a doctor for very small cost.

Your druggist will sell you a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui. Secure the medicine today. Take it in the privacy of your home. Relief will come to you as surely as you take it.

WINE OF CARDUI

A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

New Cathedral, at Peoria, Ill., Formally Consecrated For Service.

BISHOP O'REILLY OFFICIATED

Other Clergymen Assisted—Service Commemorated 25th Anniversary of Creation of Diocese—Opened Bishop Spalding's Silver Jubilee.

Peoria, Ills., April 30.—St. Mary's cathedral was consecrated yesterday forenoon, according to the form prescribed by the Roman Catholic church. The service began at 6 o'clock and was concluded at 11 o'clock. The public was excluded until the ceremony was nearly completed, in order that there should be no interruption. Rt. Rev. P. J. O'Reilly, auxiliary bishop of the diocese of Peoria, was the consecrator, and was assisted by Father Edwards, deacon; Father Cornelius, sub-deacon; Father Greve, arch priest; Fathers Durkin and O'Neill, and assisting priests, Fathers Samon, Cummings, Fannen, Walters, Otto, Sullivan and Monville.

The service is of especial interest as commemorating the Twenty-fifth anniversary of the creation of the diocese of Peoria and the first of the exercises in celebration of the silver jubilee of Bishop John Lancaster Spalding, which will be celebrated next Thursday.

GIFT TO TUSKEGEE SCHOOL.

Tuskegee, Ala., April 30.—The Ogden party reached Tuskegee early yesterday and were driven to the Alabama conference college, where they were given a reception under a huge oak tree on the campus. Following this, they visited the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute, Booker T. Washington's school for colored students. Besides the Ogden party there were present Governor Jelks of Alabama; Postmaster Atkinson, of Atlanta, and President Charles A. Wickersham, of the Atlanta and West Point railway.

Mr. Atkinson handed Principal Washington a check for $1,000 to help on the work. The forenoon exercises at the institute were devoted to the dedication of the Carnegie library. The annual industrial exercises of Tuskegee institute were held yesterday afternoon.

Marker on Clinton's Grave.

Washington, April 30.—Surrounded by the graves of hundreds of statesmen who have made history, a score of patriotic men representing the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution assembled yesterday afternoon in the Congressional cemetery, on the banks of the eastern branch of the Potomac, and formally placed the official marker of the order at the monument of General George Clinton, New York's famous revolutionary war governor.

CONDITION OF ARCHBISHOP.

Rev. Father Curley Declared Last Night There Was Nothing to Excite Apprehension.

New York, April 30.—Rev. Father Curley said of Archbishop Corrigan's condition last night:

"There is nothing in the fact of his restlessness and weakness of today to warrant apprehension. We anticipated a slow recovery because of his extremely weak condition. The pneumonia has almost left him, only a little part of the bottom of the right lung in the back being still affected. The physicians really anticipated this relapse, but they had hoped it would not be so pronounced. He will recover, but his recovery, as the doctors say, will necessary be slow."

The afternoon bulletin, which is usually issued about 2:30 o'clock, was not given out until after 3. This, in connection with the fact that Dr. E. G. Janeway was called in for consultation, was looked upon as suggesting that the archbishop's condition

JUST IN TIME

Down in Health And Strength—Nervous—Irritable—Ache All Over—A Depressed Condition Rapidly Changed.

Mr. B. L. Updegraff, of No. 169 Fifth street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "As a general and nerve tonic I can recommend Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Larkins' drug store. I was at the time feeling run down and nervous—not up to the mark in health and needed a tonic. The medicine did its work nicely and I regained tone, strength and energy again."

had by no means improved. The bulletin read as follows:

"The archbishop is about as last reported, but is doing well."

E. G. Janeway,
"Francis Delafield,
"E. L. Keyes."

Dr. Keyes came out of the archbishop's residence a little before the bulletin was issued. He said:

"The condition of the archbishop is serious, but not critical. We sent for Dr. Janeway because the archbishop had undergone a little collapse and it was thought best to call in Dr. Janeway. That, however, does not indicate that there is anything out of the ordinary."

Dr. Keyes said that Archbishop Corrigan had partaken of two meals yesterday, at one of which he had a little beef and beef extract. He had also had a glass of champagne, and the doctor said he expected the patient to take another glass of champagne last night.

"The archbishop is very weak," he concluded.

WM. M'KINLEY OSBORNE DEAD.

He Was Consul General to London.
Cousin of the Late President.
Born at Girard, O.

London, April 30.—United States Consul General Osborne died at his residence in Wimbledon at 10:20 o'clock yesterday morning.

William McKinley Osborne was appointed consul general at London by President McKinley on March 12, 1897. He was born at Girard, O., in 1842. Later he removed to Boston. The deceased consul general was a cousin to the late President McKinley, his mother being sister to President McKinley's father.

He was a resident of Roxbury, Mass., and was appointed to London five years ago. The post is considered to be the plum of the United States foreign service, for the compensation averages about $25,000 per annum and the expenses are not particularly large. Mr. Osborne was secretary of the Republican national committee during McKinley's first campaign for the presidency. He had been ailing for several years from Bright's disease, it is believed, and he was in ill health when he last visited the United States about two years ago. His family, a wife and several children, were with him in Europe, the eldest boy at an English college, and his younger daughters at school in Paris.

Offered to A. Clay Evans.

Washington, April 30.—The president has tendered the office of consul general to London, made vacant by the death of William McKinley Osborne, to A. Clay Evans, recently resigned as commissioner of pensions.

Fuller Syndicate So Says of Western Maryland, They Are to Get.
Then With Wabash.

Baltimore, April 30.—The first branch of the city council last night passed the ordinance accepting the Fuller syndicate's bid of $5,551,370.45 for the city's holdings in the Western Maryland railroad. The ordinance was then sent over to the second branch, where it was introduced as a substitute for the measure already under consideration in that branch, and received its first reading. The substitute will receive its second reading in the second branch tonight and it is expected that it will be ready for the mayor's signature tomorrow night.

The members of the Fuller syndicate declare it is their intention to connect the Western Maryland railroad as rapidly as the work can be done with the Wheeling and Lake Erie, and through it with the Wabash system and its connecting lines, thus making Baltimore the terminal of a great transcontinental line controlled by the Wabash.

Rome, April 30.—The pope has decided to hold a consistory earlier than he previously intended. It will now be held in the latter half of May. No new cardinals will be created, and only a few bishops will be appointed.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS BILL.

House Passed Measure Donating Money For Many Cities.

Washington, April 30.—Under a special order, which allowed three hours' debate, but which cut off all opportunity of amendment, the house yesterday passed an omnibus public building bill which will distribute $17,405,450 among 174 cities. As the bill covers into the treasury $1,585,000, the total amount carried by the bill is reduced to that extent. The bill provides for 77 new buildings and sites, 6 buildings on sites already purchased, 17 buildings on donated sites and 58 increases in appropriations for buildings already authorized.

It also provides for the purchase of 16 sites. The majority for the bill was so overwhelming that only nine members backed a demand for the ayes and noes on the passage of the bill. There was some criticism of the method by which it was proposed to pass the bill without opportunity for amendment, which Mr. Mercer chairman of the committee, answered by stating that if the bill had been subject to amendment the appropriations carried by it would have been increased to $60,000,000. The consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill was resumed, but only seven pages were disposed of.

Miles Safe if Mum.

Washington, April 30.—It is now believed that no further consideration will be given by the president to the subject of retiring Lieutenant General Miles, so long as the commander of the army continues his present attitude of reserve, and that the case will be allowed to remain as it is unless General Miles himself should do something or take some action to revive the recent determination of the president.

"I had a running, itching sore on my leg. Suffered tortures. Doan's Ointment took away the burning and itching instantly, and quickly effected permanent cure." C. W. Lenhart, Bowling Green, O.

The Prohibition State Convention In Session at Zanesville.

PARTY GROWS IN POWER.

Now Large Enough to Nominate Without Petition—Pinney Declares Complete Tickets Must Be Nominated In Every County and District.

Zanesville, O., April 30.—The temporary session of the Prohibition state convention convened at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and E. J. Pinney, of Cleveland, delivered the campaign keynote speech. The unexpectedly large convention and the fact that the party had reached such proportions that it could now nominate without petition were the subjects of congratulation and the party was urged to renewed effort.

"Complete tickets must be nominated in every district and county," Mr. Pinney said, "and the nominees for congress must be men who can and will take the stump and keep at work until election day."

He declared that once the vote reached 100,000, the next election would see the party in power.

He characterized the Anti-Saloon league as a failure, saying: "It has had access to all the churches of the state and spent more than $200,000 in the past 10 years. As a result of this we have seen abolished the laws prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors within two miles of an agricultural fair; the law providing for the recovery of damages for injury by an intoxicated person amended so that it is worthless, and imprisonment for Sunday selling abolished."

A central committee of 21 members was named and will continue the present state executive committee, with George L. Case, of Cleveland, as chairman. The resolutions committee favors the single prohibition plank platform. National Chairman Stewart, of Chicago, was the principal speaker at the mass meeting last night.

LT. GOV. NIPPERT RESIGNS

Frank B. Archers, of Belmont County, Becomes President of Ohio Senate.

Columbus, O., April 30.—Lieutenant Governor Carl L. Nippert yesterday tendered his resignation to the governor and was later appointed probate judge of Hamilton county. Frank B. Archers, of Belmont county, becomes president of the senate.

What were known as the "full crew bills," requiring that no passenger train shall be run with less than four men and no freight train with less than five men, passed the senate yesterday and are now laws. The bills were advocated by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Brief Notes of a Personal Nature and of Matters About Town.

In a Critical Condition.—Thomas W. Stevenson, of Fourth street, is reported in a critical condition, from pneumonia.

Edward Marion.—Friends wishing to view the remains of Edward Marion can do so this evening between 7 and 10 o'clock and from 10 to 1 tomorrow, at the home of John Gallimore, Seventh street.

Property Lines Fixed.—The dispute between the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and Cyrus Wilson, of Georgetown, over the location of a property line near Ralston crossing, has been settled. Mr. Wilson's property fronts the railroad near Ralston, and a few days ago Station Agent George A. Wassman and E. D. Marshall, in company with Mr. Wilson, viewed the property and the property lines were established.

TIN MILL SCALE

Is Expected to Be Arranged on a Satisfactory Basis Tomorrow.

It is now thought that a permanent scale for the employees will be settled upon at the tin mill tomorrow, as Manager William Banfield is expected to return from Mt. Clemens at that time. No strike is anticipated, and it is thought the matter will be arranged to the satisfaction of both the mill officials and the men.

The situation is being closely watched by Chester citizens who take quite an interest in the affair.

Fined $50 and Costs.

Lisbon, April 30.—(Special)—Sallineville Saloon Keeper Connors, indicted for having in his possession and distributing obscene literature, changed his plea to guilty this morning. He was fined $50 and costs in each of two counts. Connors and a barber named Duncan distributed cards as advertising matter, on which was printed this objectionable matter.

had not been his pleasure for years to find himself among as many pretty, winsome and coquettish girls as were then surrounding him. "It always gives me pleasure to be in a crowd of ladies," said Mr. Duffy, "but it generally embarrasses me. I find it difficult to make myself at home with more than one lady, and I must confess that up to the present time my experience with one lady has not proven successful."

The entertainment program now being at an end Chairman Anderson thanked the audience for the kind appreciative attention and invited every one to be seated at the tables arranged in the hall. The invitation was quickly accepted and in a few minutes the throng around the festal board showed every evidence of delight at the choice refreshment. Dancing followed the repast until a late hour.

EIGHT KILLED BY TORNADO.

Three of Injured May Die From Injuries Received in Texas Storm.

Dallas, Tex., April 30.—A special from Granbury, Tex., confirmed the report of damage done at Glenrose by a tornado, Monday. One additional death, making a total of eight, is reported, and three of the injured probably will die. The revised list of dead follows:

- Mrs. Carl Milan.
- Two-year-old daughter of J. R. Milan.
- Rev. Mr. Ford, pastor of the Methodist church.
- Miss Mae Connell.
- Musgrove, a boy.
- Mrs. Gage.
- Mrs. Fagg.
- Unknown man.
- Fatally Injured.
- Mr. and Mrs. Lee.
- Infant of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Trice.

There were 57 persons injured, but with the exception of the three mentioned as fatally hurt, it is thought that all will recover.

STOCKS WERE IRREGULAR.

New York, April 30.—The movement of prices was confused and irregular all of yesterday, and there was evidence of a distinguishing speculative interest. The wide movements in high priced stocks continued a feature, but the influence of the advances was impaired by some equally notable relapses in stocks where attempts were made to take profits. The railroad stocks were irregular.

The industrials were marked by quite as great irregularity as the railroads, and changes there were constant and variable. A further advance in the foreign exchange market and a drop in the rate of sterling at Paris both contributed to narrow the margin still remaining from the gold export point. The money market, however, was still undisturbed.

WILL APPEAL LAJOIE CASE.

Johnson Said It Would Be Taken to U. S. Supreme Court.

Baltimore, April 30.—President Ban B. Johnson, of the American league, was in this city yesterday. Speaking of the injunctions restraining Lajoie, Fraser and Bernhard from playing with any other than the Philadelphia National league club, Mr. Johnson said:

"We have ample grounds for a new appeal to the supreme court, and while this is pending the injunction issued by the lower court will be raised. We will give bond and the three players concerned will be at liberty to play with the Athletics. Should the decision again be unfavorable to us, we can take Lajoie's case to the United States court. The cases of the other two men cannot be taken there, because the amount involved is less than $2,000. Our attorneys are confident, and I share their confidence, that we will win out. Then the only redress the National league will have is in a civil suit for damages against each player, before a jury."

Will Suggest Lajoie as Umpire.

Baltimore, April 30.—Secretary Harry Goldman, of the Baltimore American league club, who will represent that club at the special meeting of the American league in Cleveland today, will urge the adoption of the double umpire system and the employment of Lajoie, Fraser and Bernhard as umpires.

OFFENSE OF U. S. OFFICERS.

Rome April 30.—The arrest and sentencing of the three officers and a marine of the United States cruiser Chicago, on the charge of disorderly conduct, continue to cause a sensation here and at Venice. United States Ambassador Mayer, who was absent from Rome on an automobile trip, hurriedly returned to this city, in an endeavor to reach some arrangement with the Italian authorities.

Detailed reports of the trial of the Americans say they accidentally overturned a table in the cafe piazza, at Venice, and that they were violently seized with the intention of having them conveyed to a police station, which they resisted.

The public prosecutor said he did not believe the officers were drunk and severely criticised their conduct in causing the disturbances.

In the course of the defense counsel for the defendants agreed with the public prosecutor regarding it being the duty of guests to behave correctly, but counsel demanded that the magistrate examine the case in a spirit of serenity and impartiality, which, counsel inferred, was lacking in the prosecution's attitude. Continuing, counsel declared that if the conduct of the officers was blameable, the action of the pretended injured parties was more so in refusing to accept just compensation and in hunting for dollars.

After policemen had testified to being struck with fists and two civilians had deposed to being injured on their heads and arms by canes, the court took a serious view of the case and inflicted the penalties, on the ground that public officers had been violently opposed in the exercise of their duties. The question of compensation was referred to another court.

FIVE PERSONS KILLED.

Santa Fe Train Wrecked Near Medill, Mo.—23 Persons Injured.

Keokuk, Ia., April 30.—The California limited, on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe road, eastbound, was derailed on a curve at Cama, a switch five miles west of Medill, Mo., yesterday, while going at a tremendous speed. The rails on the curve spread. Five persons were killed and 23 injured.

The Dead.

S. T. French, Chicago.
Mr. Weltheimer, San Diego, Cal.
A son of Henry C. Gates, of Australia, 5 years old.
Two others, whose names are not obtainable.

Figaro to Print Special Day of Rochambeau Monument Unveiling.

Toulon, April 30.—Orders have been given to make special arrangements for the Rochambeau mission, which is to sail from Toulon for the United States, May 5, on the battleship Gaulois, and, in view of the reception and probably a banquet, which will be given on board of her, during the vessel's stay in America, the excellent band of the Mediterranean fleet will accompany the mission.

Paris, April 30.—The Figaro announces that it will publish a special number in connection with the Rochambeau fetes, dealing with Americans in France and Frenchmen in America. It will be published May 24, the day of the unveiling of the Rochambeau monument, in Paris, New York, Washington and other big American cities.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Ohio, Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia—Fair today and tomorrow, with fresh northwest winds.

Placing the Sympathy.

Grimes—Doesn't it disgust you to see a youngster trying to make a man of himself by irritating the wiles of his elders?

Harris—Not at all. I cannot help sympathizing with the boy, he evidently so thoroughly enjoys making a fool of himself.—Boston Transcript.

Forgot Himself.

She—My husband is a brute.
Friend—All men are brutes, my dear.
She—Mine is simply abominable! I asked him if he did not think you as pretty as I, and he said "Yes."—New York Weekly.
